IRELAND REPORTEDLONDON, Nov. 3.—Attacks on police were reported today from several points in Ireland. After the burning of the police barracks at Ardmore, a military relief party motoring in Ardmore was ambushed by 120 civilians. One soldier was killed and two wounded. An officer and seven soldiers were disarmed and captured.Another fight occurred between soldiers and civilians at Killynakeil county Tipperary. One civilian was killed and several injured on both sides.A party of police traveling by lorry from Carrick to Shanley to Athlone was ambushed and one policeman killed and three others wounded.There were wholesale raids and searches for arms and documents in Dublin. Beginning at the Duke of Leinster's residence, the buildings raided included University college, whose president was called from his residence by soldiers and compelled to give up the keys of the college rooms.BOSTON AGAINST DOUBLE PLATOONBOSTON, Nov. 3.—The voters of Boston yesterday rejected the proposed two-platoon system for firemen by a majority of more than 33,000, according to available figures. The vote was: Yes, 55,155; no, 55,277.The proposal to enlarge the city council from its present membership of nine to a membership of 15 also was decisively defeated. The vote was:
Yes, 55,155; no, 78,053.A state-wide referendum providing for the sale of beverages containing an alcoholic content not exceeding 2.75 per cent. was favored in this city by a majority of nearly 27,000.

BUILDING OPERATIONS

Building operations for which permits were issued at the office of the building department during the month of October involved a total estimated expenditure of $97,310, according to the monthly report of the department. A total of 79 permits were issued. Thirty-four of these were for new buildings and 45 for alterations. New buildings cost $29,950 and alterations, $67,360.Many foreign-born men who answered the call to their native lands when the war broke out are now returning to the United States.Fannie Hurst's beautiful story, "Il-luminescence."ELECTED PRESIDENT ON HIS BIRTHDAYNovember 2 is a lucky day for Warren G. Harding.On that day, in 1865, he first blinked at the light.On that day, just 55 years later, he was elected president of the United States.Is there any connection between the date of his birth and his success? Astrologers place great importance on birthdays, as indicating the influence of the planets on human affairs. They believe that the particular and relative positions of the heavenly bodies, at the time of birth, affect a human being's whole life.Harding's election confirms the prediction of ten astrologers in the October number of "Astro," a monthly devoted to this subject.On the well known other hand, it goes against the prediction of five astrologers in the same magazine.DANCE AT

NO STATEMENT
FROM PRESIDENTWASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The republican landslide in the solemn referendum on the League of Nations has had no apparent effect upon President Wilson's health, according to Rear-Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his physician.Dr. Grayson said he found the president unaffected by the result after spending a good night.The president, it was said at the White House, did not vary from his usual routine. He attended to official business and read the newspapers. He spent some time on the south porch.White House officers were not prepared to say whether the president would send a message of congratulation to Senator Harding today. They did not expect him to have any comment to make on the election at this time.VICTOR BERGER

man from the fifth district of Wisconsin, today conceded his defeat by Wil-

SenateNEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(By Associated Press)—One of the most sweeping republican victories in party history today stood recorded for Senator Warren G. Harding for president and a republican congress. Tremendous and unparalleled republican pluralities beginning with the first count of ballots in yesterday's election continued mounting today.At noon eastern time today, congressional returns were complete from only 17 states, but all the returns then available showed a republican gain of 25 in the house of representatives, of-set by losses of three. In the senate the only republican gain definitely recorded was one from Maryland, but the landslide motion of the republican national ticket in other states promised further sensational gains with it.With the presidency and congress the democrats also lost governors, state legislators and other state and local candidates. The break threatened to extend into the border states of the hitherto solid south. Republican gains in some southern states were larger than any since the civil war.Senator Harding's victory, in what Governor Cox of Ohio, his democratic opponent, and other democratic leaders and many prominent republicans hailed as the "solemn referendum" upon the League of Nations, was impressive. In the absence of final figures, the swelling tide of huge pluralities early today gave him assurance of 329 votes in the electoral college as against 127

Big Republican Victory in Lowell—Largest Vote in
City's HistoryHarding and Coolidge Win by Over 6000—All Republican State Candidates on Winning End—Rogers Defeats Palmer—Putnam Re-elected—Brennen and Slowey Also Re-elected—Unusual Number of BlanksThe republican tidal wave, swept over Lowell and its vicinity yesterday and engulfed all of the local democratic aspirants for office with the exception of three candidates for the legislature from the city.Lowell, from being a normally democratic city, has been for the time being swept from its moorings and entered in the republican column.Harding and Coolidge were victorious over Cox and Roosevelt.Channing Cox carried the city for governor by a comfortable margin.Putnam won out for the lieutenant-governorship, his republican opponent
R. M. Washburn of Worcester casting an even smaller vote than had been expected.George H. Jackson, independent, of Lynn proved to be almost a negligible factor in the state treasuryship contest. The republican voters had evidently learned well the lessons that had been pressed home to them to vote only for candidates bearing the distinct G.O.P. label.Mrs. Alice E. Cram of Boston, democratic nominee for auditor, the only woman whose name appeared on the state ticket, made a creditable showing, but evidently did not make any special appeal to the voters of her own sex.In the congressional contest, Hon.
John Jacob Rogers came out a substantial winner over his opponent, Jackson Palmer, who made a vigorous fight for election.

Sparks is a Loser

Hon. John T. Sparks, candidate for the state senate from the eighth district, went down to defeat in the general landslide by an adverse majority of 3541 votes credited to his opponent.Frank H. Putnam, republican, Mr.
Sparks lost the city of Lowell by 472 votes. Last year he came within 155 votes of winning the district.Thomas J. Corbett stands out as the one bright star in an otherwise obscured democratic firmament today.He was re-elected to the house of representatives from the 16th districtJOHN JACOB ROGERS, Congressman

without opposition.

Charles H. Slowey and Owen E.
Brennen, democrats, went over the top in the 14th representative district by good pluralities.It was a remarkable election day in Lowell in many respects. There was an unusual tenseness in the air and the voters went about the job of casting their ballots as though they meant business.Elaborate preparations had been made to get the voters to the polls, especially by the republicans. Fleets of automobiles were ready to be presented into service to transport persons inclined to walk from their homes to the polling places. There was scant use for most of the machines. In one precinct the republican city committee had mobilized 25 autos, but not more than five of these were placed in actual use.

The day was an unusually quiet one

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—The home state of Governor Coolidge gave to the republican national ticket on which he was the candidate for vice president, the overwhelming plurality of more than 400,000. The largest previous presidential plurality in Massachusetts was 173,265 for McKinley in 1896.
Boston went republican for the first time in 1893 by a margin of 21,054; yesterday it went republican for the second time by 20,000. The governor's home city of Northampton which gave Harding only 108 plurality in 1916, gave Harding and Coolidge a plurality of 1879.All republican congressmen were re-elected including Speaker Gillett, who was unopposed. The republicans also captured the seats of Congressmen Phelan and Olney, democrats, electing in their places Robert S. Maloney and Louis A. Frothingham, respectively, and elected Charles L. Underhill to the seat made vacant by the retirement of Alvan T. Fuller, to make a successful contest for lieutenant governor. Thisleaves only two democratic congressmen from the state—Gallivan and Tague, both from Boston districts.Lieut. Governor Channing H. Cox, republican, was elected governor. The rest of the republican state ticket was successful, including Fuller for lieutenant governor and James Jackson for treasurer in three cornered contests and Alonzo B. Cook, who was re-elected auditor over Mrs. Alice E.
Cram, democrat, the only woman on either ticket.The republicans gained two seats in the state senate and made a net gain of eight seats in the lower branch of the legislature.The partial returns indicated a socialist vote for president in Massachusetts of about 40,000. The socialist vote in 1916 was 11,065, and the largest cast in this state heretofore was 13,601
in 1904.Merrimack Square theatre, Monday;

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE: Final Performances of "Hold by the Enemy," the big William Gillette drama of the Civil war, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow there will be an entire change of program.

The big feature for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Sins of the Fathers," starring popular Ethel Clayton. A South African story by Cynthia Stockley serves as the foundation for the photoplay.

The heroine is an English girl who was mothered for two years by a Malay woman and was imbued by her with a passionate desire for brilliant stones and the strange power to cause injury to those whom she might hate. When she sees jewels, she comes under the influence of her craving and will not stop at anything, even theft, to obtain them. When the lure is taken away, she becomes again a gentle, lovely personality. A beautiful romance develops, according to the story, and destroys the spell.

An excellent cast supports the pretty star in "Sins of the Fathers." Jack Holt is the leading man, and Fred Malatesta and Clarence Giddard are also in the company.

The other feature for the week-end is "Forbidden Valley," a J. Stuart Blackton production telling a romantic story of Kentucky. A comedy, the International News, Will Rogers' "Literary Digest" and a Burton Holmes travel picture will round out the bill.

H. F. KELTH'S THEATRE: Ah, but there's snap in every act of the good show at the H. F. Kelth theatre, this week. It's the kind of a show that leads you on and on from one sterling finish to another. Plenty of comedy and lots of dancing and a pair of comedy skits that are as unusual as they are good. Grace Hott in "Just Like a Man," holds the top-line place, in a comedy by Frank Cravell. Arthur Wanser and Maybelle Palmer offer "She's Hard to Get Along With," and it's first rate fun all the way. The Golden Gate trio are great dancers with musical accompaniment, while Cole and Mason in "Just For a Kiss," do some particularly classy work, and dance also. Dave Roth does everything anybody could wish, and wins with it. Other acts are: The Grando, Spanish xylophonists, and Davis and Pelle, equitubists.

THE STRAND: "The Little Woman" with Geraldine Farrar in the stellar role, is creating no end of comment among picture patrons of the city. It's a drama of the mysteries of a woman's soul; the uncertainties of a woman's heart. In the star gives a most artistic and finished portrayal. The other feature is Alice Joyce in "The Prey." Both of these pictures are being shown at the Strand, New York city, at the present time at $2 prices, while local theatregoers may see the same thing at our popular prices. This fact should again assure patrons of the policy of the management in giving the best first. This program will be given the last time today.

OPERA HOUSE: If you enjoy an abundance of humor, mixed with pathos, a good story that had human characters engaged in its interpretation, a delightful romance and material that should stir one's patriotism to a point of real enthusiasm, then don't miss "Friendly Enemies," which is being presented this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. If you wish to witness one of the best characterizations ever seen on a local stage see Alton Byron's treatment of the role of the old German-American. It's artistic and ranks well with the best efforts of its kind seen on any stage. This is a big claim, but an honest one. See it yourself and be satisfied. Maxwell Pilsbry, Miss Pilsbry Knowles and Miss Marguerite Pilsbry are also commendable in their respective roles. Order your tickets early and avoid possible disappointment.

RIALTO THEATRE: Lionel Barrymore in "The Master Mind" is making his last appearance at the Rialto theatre today. It has had big successes for the past two days and should continue to pack the house for its limited showing. The picture is the story of an underworld plot of revenge and hate against a brilliant district at-

WHY HAVE CATARRH?

So Disagreeable to Yourself and All About You.

Catarrh is generally conceded to be a constitutional disease. Therefore it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla which reaches every part of the system by thoroughly purifying and enriching the blood. This medicine removes the cause of the trouble, which if not checked may lead to more serious disease.

In 16 years of use and test Hood's Sarsaparilla has relieved many cases as told by voluntary letters of commendation. Why not get a bottle today and give it a trial? It combines economy and efficiency. Keep Hood's Pills on hand as a family cathartic.

ber of commerce will be held this week. It is probable that a readjustment of fare rates and the routing and time schedules on the Eastern Massachusetts will be taken up for discussion.

The next meeting of the Lowell home rule committee is scheduled to be held in city hall next week Thursday. This will be a regular monthly meeting.

It is expected that the chamber of commerce committee may have concrete recommendations regarding the improvement of transportation conditions to make at the coming meeting.

There is said to be a strong sentiment among business men in favor of a lowering of fare rates, and it is probable that some effort will be made to bring pressure to bear on the public trustees to grant a more reasonable schedule of charges.

A request has been filed with the governor for a hearing on charges that have been made against the public trustees by the mayor of Revere. The Revere executive has charged that the trustees have not acted in the public's interests, and that they have followed a dictatorial and arrogant policy in dealing with representatives of the public with whom they have come in contact.

It is reported that there is much dissatisfaction in Lawrence over the behavior of the public trustees. It has been publicly advocated there that the city shall take joint action with the head of the Revere city government in petitioning the governor for the removal of the men who have been placed in control of the road.

It was stated by Secretary-Manager George F. Wells, of the chamber of commerce, and a member of the Lowell home rule committee, today, that insofar as his information goes there has been no cause for complaint by anyone in this city regarding treatment accorded by the trustees.

The news came today that a strike has been narrowly averted on the lines of the Eastern Massachusetts in the Fall River district as a consequence of the objection of the men to the introduction of one-man cars on the more liberally patronized lines. The question of striking, it is stated, has been held in abeyance pending an effort to reach a satisfactory understanding between the men and the company.

Thomas B. Lees, manager of the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts, said today that no fault had been found by the employees of the railway in this section with the introduction or operation of the one-man cars.

Secretary-Manager George F. Wells of the chamber of commerce returned this morning from a four-days' automobile trip. During his journey he visited the White mountains, stopping at Bethlehem and circling down through Crawford notch and up through Pinkham notch to the site of the old Glen house near the base of Mt. Washington. A snow storm started while Mr. Wells was in Bethlehem Sunday afternoon. From Bethlehem he went to Claremont, N. H., by way of Hanover, where he made a short stop at Dartmouth college. From Claremont his route ran across the Green mountains state to Manchester, N. H. From there he was made to Pennington and thence over the Mohawk trail to Greenfield, Gardner and Lowell.

A considerable number of people took advantage of the chamber of commerce's "open house" invitation to receive the election returns last night. A meeting of representatives of the city's welfare organizations that was to have been held in the chamber's

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times his terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

rooms yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering the advisability of starting an organized drive for funds was postponed on account of a lack of attendance of persons interested.

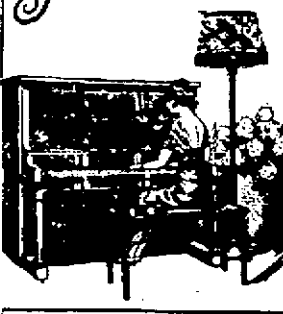

The mail carrier delivering mail at the chamber's rooms is kept busy today in letters furnishing information to be incorporated in a survey that is being made for the purpose of gathering facts that may be of use in connection with an effort to locate new industries in the city.

but the potential figures for the missing districts indicating the election of his republican opponent, Nathan L. Miller, the landslide was complete.

United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., republican was elected by a substantial plurality over his democratic opponent, Lieut. Governor Harry C. Walker. The republicans will control each branch of the state legislature by more than a two-thirds vote and elected 25 representatives to congress, a net gain of five seats, with two districts missing.

Harding Carries City By 440,041

Complete returns from New York city gave Harding a plurality of 110,041 over Cox.

Regardless of the final outcome, Smith's heavy vote, which is running nearly half a million above that of Cox, is a remarkable tribute to his personal popularity. He carried all the boroughs of the city.

Senator Harding's plurality was double the size of the highest pre-election forecast by republican national and state leaders. Leading in all five boroughs he was the first republican presidential candidate to carry New York city since McKinley accomplished the feat in 1896. He even carried the home district of Charles F. Murphy, Tammany Hall leader.

The missing up-state districts were largely rural communities in which Governor Smith is supposed to be in disfavor because of his veto of the daylight saving law.

In the event that Governor Smith

is defeated, rumors were current about the city today that he would become a candidate for mayor here next year. Democratic state leaders predicted early today that Smith would carry the state by at least 4000. Republican leaders claimed the state for Miller by from 40,000 to 75,000.

HARDING GOING TO TEXAS

President-elect to Take Rest

—Hundreds of Congratulatory Messages

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 3.—President-elect Harding today turned his thoughts toward rest and recreation before approaching the formulation of his administration machinery and policies.

He plans to take a vacation trip, which will give him two weeks of seclusion on the Texas coast, and a week of scouting in the Panama Canal zone before he goes seriously to work choosing his cabinet and mapping the work he is to do after March 4.

A few rag ends of the campaign remain to be cleared away from his desk first, however, and he will devote the next two or three days to rounding out his affairs here. He probably will leave Saturday morning, not to return again until about mid-December.

One of his tasks today was to read and acknowledge hundreds of telegrams of congratulations that had been pouring in since the balloting began yesterday. During the night, as the proportions of the landslide to him became apparent, the Marion telegraph office was flooded beyond capacity and today the influx of messages of greeting and good wishes continued to flow in proportions that outdid the liveliest days of the campaign.

The senator was not at his office until late in the forenoon, having been kept awake until long after midnight by his exultant fellow townsmen, who chose his lawn as the forum for a succession of celebrations over the honor that had come to Marion and to their neighbor. They brought along every variety of noise-making device, and to every serene by coming out and shaking hands all around.

Office Seekers Busy

Office seekers already have begun their siege and in Texas the senator hopes to get away for a time from the premature carousals in the making for him. Point Isabel, near Brownsville, and the Mexican border is to be his vacation ground, and hunting and fishing are to occupy him for the 12 or 14 days he remains there.

After that he will make the voyage to the Canal Zone on a passenger liner sailing from New Orleans. He expects to spend a week about the canal, and probably will land on the return trip at New Orleans about Dec. 3. On Dec. 5, he is to speak at a celebration of the Order of Elks at Bedford, Va.

He remains a member of the United States senate but as his plans now show up, he probably will not make more than a short visit, at most, to the national capital before inauguration day. He has a standing pair with Senator Underwood of Alabama, and his friends say that unless some emergency arises, he will not return to the senate.

END OF EIGHT YEARS MISERY

Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Recovered.

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had an organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and limbs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine and tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your vegetable Compound and your Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking them to advantage. You can use my name for a testimonial."

—Mrs. THEBESIA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it! All who suffer as she did, should not rest until they have tried this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Many arthritides, he will let that arrangement protect the republican majority in the opening weeks of the session that begins early next month.

On Jan. 1, when Governor Cox apparently will be succeeded in this state by Harry L. Davis, a republican, Mr. Harding probably will resign his senate seat. Because of the slender republican margin at present in the upper house he does not desire to step out sooner and let the governor fill the vacancy by appointment of a democrat.

For Association of Nations

Aside from the work of assembling the personnel of a new administrative machine, President-elect Harding has before him the task of bringing together a council of statesmen to map out a plan for an association of nations.

This he has promised to do, as soon as possible after his election and it is understood he will not wait until he has been inaugurated to lay the foundations for the work.

Mixed with the senator's congratulatory messages today were requests for seats at the inauguration ceremonies in Washington next March. The honor of having made the first application of that sort falls, however, to George W. Cook of Chicago, an official of Swift & Co., who telegraphed two weeks ago to George D. Christian, Jr., the senator's secretary, asking for two seats. Mr. Christian wired back that the seats could be regarded as already reserved.

In Texas, President-elect and Mrs. Harding will be the guests of F. E. Scoley, a personal friend, who was a leader in the Harding pre-convention campaign and since then has been connected with the nominee's headquarters here.

COUNT MAGRI, NOTED MIDGET, LAID AT REST

MIDDLEBORO, Nov. 3.—In a grave no larger than a child's, the remains of Count Primo Magri, last of the famous midgets, was laid yesterday.

His tiny gray casket, for which he had made provisions from the meagre remainder of a once large fortune, was placed in a plot in St. Mary's cemetery. Thus he was separated for all time from the countless, who lie buried at Bridgeport, Conn., by the side of their first husband, General Tom Thumb.

About 100 residents of Middleboro attended the services at 2.30 yesterday morning. They were held at the house of William Egger, local undertaker, who in his capacity as auctioneer, cried the sale of Count Magri's relics two weeks ago. The Rev. Father Albert M. Readdy, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, read a prayer for the dead. Participants were four members of the local lodge of Elks, of which organization Count Magri was a member. They were William H. Cronin, Frank H. Varnay, 19, at home.

Funeral services were held at 10.30; printer, Mary Emma Gordon, 43 Sutherland, 18, weaver.

Fred J. Gennell, 13 Watson ave., 25, bootmaker; Sadie Dowling, 127 High, 25, silk reaver.

Joseph Dumais, 153 Cheever, 21, laborer; Marie Alex. Robitaille, 153

Harrington, George D. Purdon and James P. McCuskey.

Death came to Count Magri last Sunday, after a brief illness at St. Luke's hospital. "Loneliness and disappointment following the death of his wife a year ago is thought to have brought on his end. Proceeds from the sale of his relic-brag and gifts which Count and Countess Magri had collected in a score of years as the world's diminutive favorites brought less than $1000. This fact added to the burden carried by the broken count.

Although a native of Bologna, Italy, where he had hoped to return in the spring, Count Magri was a naturalized American citizen. Friends are saying that his death in America is the one thing which lessens the tragic circumstances surrounding the close of his life. He believed he would rather be buried here, even away from the countless for it was in America he found happiness and success.

THIS ACTUALLY REMOVES SUPERFLUOUS HAIR ROOTS

(Entirely New and Quick Method)

By the introduction in this country of what is known as the "phelactine process," any woman can now rid herself completely of annoying superfluous hair of face. The process is entirely new, different from all others, and far better—because it actually removes the roots, as well as the surface hair. It is almost as a child's perfectly harmless, odorless and non-irritating.

Just get a stick of phelactine from your druggist, apply the simple directions—and see the hair roots come out, with your own eyes! No depilatory or electrical treatment can produce this result. The skin is left soft, smooth and hairless as a child's. Phelactine can be used with absolute safety—one could even eat it with impunity.—Ad-.

The Vote in Lowell

from the police point of view. There were no unusual crowds on the streets until nightfall. Peace reigned around the polling booths. The heated arguments in public places that have characterized other elections were lacking.

Vote Like Veterans

It was the almost universal testimony that the women went about the job as though they had been at it all of their lives. The delays that had been expected as the result of the new citizens getting tangled up over their ballots did not materialize. The fact that the republicans had been more active in registering their women than had the democrats contributed to the large republican vote.

One of the outcomes of the election is likely to be a demand for some sort of relief in the future for overworked election officials. Some of them were on duty for nearly 22 hours at a stretch. It is possible that there may be an agitation for two sets of officials—one to check-up the voting and the other to count the ballots. Another remedy that has been suggested is the dividing up of the voters into smaller units by the establishment of more polling places.

It was not until after five o'clock in the afternoon that any of the real live evidences of an election day began to be apparent in Lowell. At that time a crowd began to assemble in front of the Sun office in Merrimack square. This crowd continued to grow during the evening, and at one time numbered over 3000 people.

The Sun bulletins came along at a lively pace, and kept the crowd informed of the trend of events locally and in the state and nation. As there was an occasional let-up in the flow of the news, the crowd would picture were shown to entertain the crowd.

Quiet Election Night

It was the quietest election night crowd that ever assembled in front of the Sun's bulletin. In place of the usual throngs the results of the balloting were thrown on the screen, there was an almost undisturbed silence. The republicans present showed scant signs of enjoyment as the returns came in indicating the certainty of the election of Harding and Coolidge. A large crowd, however, had been much more impressively solemn.

It can scarcely be said that the result was in doubt at any time during the evening. The succession of heavy republican majorities in different parts of the country made the certainty of Harding's triumph only too apparent. At 10 o'clock the crowd began to be impatient, and the sky commenced to send down torrents of rain. All but a few determined individuals, clad in for Governor Cox with 75 doubtful. Inclusive of states where the republican tide was running strong. The official results presaged a larger majority in the electoral college for Senator Harding and his running mate, Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts than any since 1888, except alone the vote of 435 for President Wilson in 1912, during the republican split.

The republican congressional swing was a strong, increased majorities in both senate and house being marked up. Early today, victory for virtually all 15 republican senators up for reelection was swelled by the returns, while about a half-dozen of the 19 democratic representatives were battling against republican leads.

Republican governors in Connecticut, Illinois—where former Senator Lewis was defeated by Len Small—Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan and New Hampshire were successful. And in Tennessee, Gov. Roberts was behind Alf Taylor, republican, but with democratic claims Roberts' election.

Decisive pluralities and leads indicated certainty of 329 electoral votes for Harding, 127 for Cox and 75 in doubt.

The republican ticket, presidential and senatorial, was leading in Arizona, Nevada, Idaho, Missouri, Montana and South Dakota. In Oklahoma the race was said to be the closest in history with the democrats ahead. Official figures from Tennessee gave Gov. Cox a lead of 11,000 with but one-fifth of the returns in. In Maryland, Senator Harding had a lead of 40,000 and Senator Smith, democrat, was 14,000 behind his republican competitor.

The contest in Missouri also was close, with the republican presidential and senatorial tickets leading. Former Speaker Clark was in a race, but with about a thousand votes to the good.

In California, where Senator Phelan, democrat, was trailing far behind Samuel M. Chiswick, republican, and with Senator Harding even farther ahead on the ticket, adoption of the alien land law amendment relating to Japanese land tenure, had a wide majority.

REPUBLICANS GAIN SEATS IN CONGRESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Republican control of congress for two years more, with an increased house majority and a prospective increase in the senate, was a major part of the election sweep.

A net gain of 20 votes in the house was shown with complete returns from only 17 states, but with most of the democratic strongholds reporting.

Eight of the 15 republican senatorial candidates had come in winning.

ners today, and the seven others had substantial leads, while in 10 other states all of the republican entrants were reported in the van.

For the 19 democratic senate seats, nine of the minority party had been returned winners—all from southern states—while in the border and western states, the others were fighting an uphill battle.

That the general republican landslide would seat several more republican senators was predicted confidently by republican campaign managers, whose claims included a majority of eight to 10 in the next senate.

Of the democrats, Senator Underwood of Alabama, minority leader, was re-elected, and Representative Heiflin was chosen to succeed the late Senator Hancock. A new face in the senate on the democratic side, will be Representative Caraway of Arkansas, who defeated Senator Kirby in the primaries and was elected yesterday. In the house most of the veterans, both republicans and democrats, were re-elected, including Speaker Gillett, now holding the record for continuous service and elected for his 15th term. Former Speaker Cannon, who has served 22 terms but not continuous, also was re-elected.

LUNCHEON FOR GOV. COOLIDGE

BOSON, Nov. 3.—Gov. Coolidge, vice president-elect, awoke today and found scores of congratulatory messages. The governor had made no special plans for the immediate future and said he would continue to go daily to the state house, permitting Gov.-elect Channing H. Cox, the present lieutenant governor to take a vacation now. The governor said he was looking forward to the usual family Thanksgiving day reunion at his home in Northampton. Immediately after that he plans to return to Boston for a special session of the legislature. The vice president-elect's program for the day called for attendance at a meeting of the governor's council at noon and for his presence at luncheon as the guest of the City club at 1 o'clock.

The 500 members of the City club planned to march to the state house to meet Gov. Coolidge and to escort him with his council, Senator Lodge and others to the club rooms, with a band. Several congressmen were on the list of guests invited to attend the luncheon at which it was announced, Gov. Coolidge would speak.

California
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Returns from 1220 precincts out of 6154 in the senatorial contest today gave Samuel M. Shortridge, republican, 73,015, and Senator James J. Phelan, democrat, 56,523.

The California anti-alien land amendment, which has been the subject of diplomatic exchanges between the United States and Japan, had a lead of slightly more than two and one-half to one.

The vote from 353 precincts was: For adoption 19,225; against 7114.

For president 1753 precincts gave Harding 293,071; Cox, 67,620.

Harding Carries New Orleans
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—Senator Harding polled the unprecedented total of 17,630 votes in the city of New Orleans with five of the 167 precincts missing. He carried 10 known country parishes, apparently was an easy victor in the third congressional district, and eight city precincts, mostly in the uptown residence section, gave him majorities.

Texas
DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 3.—Interest centered today in the congressional race in the 14th Texas district, where on the face of unofficial returns from an estimated 50 per cent. of the votes cast, Harry M. Wurzbach, republican, was leading his democratic opponent, Carlos Bee, incumbent by more than 3000. Should Wurzbach maintain his lead, it would be the first time in 26 years that a republican congressman has been elected from southwest

Texas. The democratic state ticket according to unofficial and incomplete returns made a clean sweep by majorities of about 5 to 1. All democratic congressmen also were elected except in the 14th district.

West Virginia
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 3.—Formerly classed as a doubtful state, West Virginia today continued to maintain a wide margin in favor of Harding for president and Morgan, republican, for governor. The election of candidates to congress was in doubt, however, although the republicans were leading in all six districts. Returns from 783 precincts out of 1865 in the state indicate that Harding carried the state by approximately 75,000.

Tennessee
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—Although democratic leaders refused to admit that the election had resulted in any break in the solid south, republicans today claimed the election of Alf Taylor, republican candidate for governor of Tennessee, and expressed confidence that complete returns would give the state to Senator Harding. Returns from 583 precincts out of 2060, gave Cox 81,135; Harding, 79,613; Taylor, 77,534; Roberts, 72,581. These figures were based on incomplete returns from 53 of the 93 counties, including those from a large part of eastern Tennessee which is strongly republican.

Roosevelt to Coolidge
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Franklin D. Roosevelt today sent the following telegram to Calvin Coolidge:
"My sincere congratulations to you. I trust that, under the administration of Mr. Harding and yourself, the nation will grow in prosperity and in the unselfish ideals of the Americanism which unprejudiced citizens of all parties desire."

Maryland
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 3.—The Baltimore Sun (Democratic) today conceded that Senator J. W. Smith had been defeated by O. F. Weller, republican, by 15,000.

Big Saving in Year

The process of manufacturing these paper garments is the discovery of Miss Pringle, developed with the assistance of Miss Bacon, who helped especially in the molding together of the garments' seams. Miss Bacon has also invented a machine for use in hotel rooms from which, on the deposit of a coin, transient guests may get any of these garments.

The use of these garments, the inventors explain, will not only permit the wearer to change every day at small expense, by throwing the garment in the waste paper basket instead of in the laundry basket, but will eliminate the cost of laundering, now risen as high as 12 cents a piece. And it will eliminate the original cost of any one of these garments, now triple that of before the war. The saving on the year will be the difference between five times $5, or $25, and 12 times $5, or $60, plus the cost of about four editions of the cloth garment. According to Miss Pringle it will mean easily a saving of $30 per year per garment.

Paper Napkins Gave Idea

"Paper napkins, and the immense saving they have already made in family wash bills, gave me the idea," she says. "We have overcome the objection to the roughness of paper against the skin by originating a pulp which converts into the softest of crepes yet is tough enough to hold together for some time."

The president and general manager of the company will be Miss Pringle, who already conducts her own ranch in the vicinity of Denver and raises blooded Holstein cattle on an extensive scale. The vice-president and treasurer will be Miss Bacon and she has personally developed on the family homestead at Mountain View, Cal., large groves of cherry trees and plums, with a resulting income large enough to take care of all Bacons now or to come, independent of the earnings of Mr. Bacon on the stage.

The first factory is to be built near Miss Pringle's Colorado ranch, she having already secured a large tract of short timber in the spur of the Rocky Mountains in that vicinity. The two women have also secured an option on an extensive wood belt in the Coeur d'Alene Lake region of northern Idaho.

TIPS AND RECIPES BY SISTER MARY

Before washing handkerchiefs in the same suds with the rest of the clothes I like to put them in a solution of salt and water or just clear cold water. Put them in a tub or pail and wash them for three or four minutes using a hand vacuum washer. It's a good plan to let the handkerchiefs stand in the water for 15 or 20 minutes.

This preliminary rinsing does two things. It makes the handkerchiefs pleasanter to handle and keeps them whiter. A handkerchief manages to get grimy looking very quickly and hot soap suds seems to set the black in the linen.

Menu For Tomorrow
Breakfast—Grains, cereal with top milk, cinnamon toast, coffee.
Luncheon—Vegetable soup, croissants, nut ginger bread, apple sauce, tea.
Dinner—Baked halibut with egg sauce, shoe-string potatoes, baked tomatoes, fruit salad, crackers and cheese, coffee.

My Own Recipes
Tomatoes may be easily and quickly baked without the extra work of stuffing and are quite as good for a change. Wash carefully and put in buttered muffin pans to bake. The skin will burst after a few minutes cooking. Then dot with butter and season with salt and pepper and fish baking.

BOILED HALIBUT
1 thick slice halibut
Salt
Lemon juice
1 whole small onion.
Wash fish and tie in piece of cheese cloth. Cook in boiling salted water to which 2 tablespoons lemon juice has been added 25 or 30 minutes. The onion should not be cut in slices and should be put into the water. When

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c

GOVERNORS TO TAKE UP HOUSING PROBLEMS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—State governors will consider housing problems and ways to promote ownership of homes in their 12th annual conference at Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 1 to 3. Other subjects coming before the governors this year, as announced here by Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference, are:

Centralization of governmental functions and activities, in relation to the developing tendency toward centralization in the national government.

The Kansas industrial relations court.

Sources of income and the disbursement of state governments.

The general agricultural situation.

Reports will be presented to the governors from the commissioners on uniform state laws and the National Organization of state railroad commissioners.

"The coming conference promises to be one of the most largely attended and important gatherings of governors of our states that has ever been held," according to Secretary Riley.

Not only will most of the present governors be in attendance but a large number of new governors, to be elected on November 2.

"The conference will be held just prior to the convening of legislatures in most of the states, and will be of great interest to the governors who must submit their recommendations to these bodies."

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—The tourist, business in Ireland has been injuriously affected by the revolutionary disorders. Tourist agents and hotel keepers are in despair. North Wales and the Isle of Man have captured the visitors who used to come to Killarney and Glengariff. There has been a notable absence of the usual influx of Americans.

Dublin has suffered less proportionately than other places, but Dublin's visitors did not take the risk of leaving it for the provinces. There was no danger to life or limb, but the location of the railway service caused by the refusal of the railway men to carry soldiers, police or munitions made the train service so uncertain that nobody could count safely on reaching or returning from any given destination within the limits of a holiday.

VIENNA CROWDED

Rooming Accommodations Taxed to Capacity

VIENNA, Nov. 3.—Like nearly every other city in Europe, Vienna's rooming accommodation is taxed beyond capacity. The hotels are overflowing at exorbitant rates (in crown values). Every train unloads its quota of newcomers to travel in taxicabs and hackmen from one end of the city to the other in search of sleeping quarters, while even the room requisitioning system by the government fails to house many thousands.

An American visitor wishing to go from Vienna to Budapest telegraphed daily for a week, receiving daily the reply, "nothing available." An American woman, wife of a consular official, the other day and it required all the influence of four American officials to secure her a bathroom in which to sleep.

To solve the permanent rooming problem the city authorities have passed an ordinance permitting the reconstruction of the attic of apartment buildings for sleeping quarters. This space under the roof is meant as storage room for tenants and for laundry drying purposes. It was unlawful to permit anyone to sleep there and an ordinance required the landlord to lock the entrance at 7 p. m. It is estimated that there are 40,000 such buildings in the city, but how many landowners will go to the expense of alteration remains to be seen.

PROMOTE THRIFT AND PROTECT SAVINGS

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—An organization to promote thrift and to protect savings has been incorporated here as an outgrowth of the war-time conservation campaigns and the recent Postal high finance fiasco. It will be known as the Association for the Promotion and Protection of Savings and will combine with the encouragement of safe investment on educational program to combat quick-rich schemes.

At the head of the association is Alfred L. Wilson, former governor of the Federal Reserve bank in this city. Those associated with him include leaders in the thrift, liberty loan and other campaigns of recent years. The association will co-operate with the

FISH AND GAME CLUB

HOLDS LADIES' NIGHT

Members of the Lowell Fish and Game association held their annual ladies' night last evening at the Colonial theatre in Middlesex street and the affair attracted its usual large crowd of sportsmen and their lady friends.

The evening's program included remarks by Chief Game Warden O. C. Bourne, who brought with him moving pictures made and sanctioned by the state fish and game authorities, showing the raising of fish and game. The films, proved most interesting and instructive. Following their exhibition, five reels of pictures released by the publishers of Field and Stream, were thrown on the screen. Among the subjects which were included were the decoying of Canadian geese, sword-fishing at Catalina Island, a turkey hunt, the raising of bass in the Potomac river, a moose hunt in New Brunswick and a duck hunt at Charles Neck, Va.

The moving pictures were interspersed with orchestral selections. The ladies present received favors of carnations and the gentlemen copies of Field and Stream. Simon B. Harris, president of the association, welcomed the guests.

LOWELL OUTCLASSES THE
JIGGERS, 12 TO 3

Lowell completely outclassed Worcester in a fast polo game at the Crescent rink last night and won by the score of 12 to 3.

Worcester entered the rink minus "Jigger" Higgins, who was injured in the Lowell-Worcester game at Worcester on Saturday night, and Trulson played second rush.

Lowell played the polo, with Hart and Davies performing in expert fashion on the rush line. Bouchard also went better than in recent games, while Barney Doherty was all to the good at halfback and Welch put up a good game at goal.

Worcester opened the scoring with one by St. Aubin, but two minutes later Davies counted and Hart broke the tie nine seconds later. Trulson then drove in a goal again, knotting the score. Two by Lowell in quick order with Hart and Bouchard, the men behind the drives, gave Lowell a two-point lead. Just before the period ended St. Aubin called for the visitors. Score: Lowell 4, Worcester 3. Worcester failed to score in the second and third periods, while Lowell got five in the second session and three in final 15 minutes of play. Davies and Hart each got two in the second period, with Bouchard hammering in one. Hart, Bouchard and Davies each counted in the final stanza.

The lineup and score:

VICTORY FOR INDIANS

At the recent Indian-Rosindale football game played on the Fair grounds, a play arose that developed considerable controversy and resulted in the contest being called a tie. The play occurred when the Indians had possession of the ball close to their own line. Lynch punted from behind the Indian goal line and the ball struck the crossbar, bounding back toward the kicker where it was recovered by a Rosindale player. Walter Camp, editor of the country's leading authority on the rules, appealed to for a decision and he declared it to be a safety, thereby scoring two points for Rosindale. This gives the Indians the game by the score of 7 to 2.

The Vote in Lowell

coin coats, or carrying umbrellas, who sought shelter in doorways and under awnings, departed for home. These few hung-on until The Sun flashed the news on the screen that Harding's election was conceded.

One of the last persons to leave the square—evidently a democrat—observed, as he turned the corner of Central street, "Well, the democrats have cast the two per cent. of the total vote required to keep the party designation on the official ballot, and we are not nearly as badly off as the republicans were eight years ago."

The number of blanks yesterday was much greater in proportion to the total vote than in any previous election.

The local returns were received with tantizing slowness. The first bulletins came from Tewksbury about five o'clock and indicated nothing more unusual than that the old town had gone republican by about the expected plurality. Later other towns came straggling along. About eight o'clock the first city returns arrived: the last not being available until four o'clock this morning. It was 4:20 this morning before the precinct officers finished their work at city hall—all because of the women's vote. The Lowell vote by wards and precincts is appended:

Negro Who Killed Two Men, After Being Refused a Vote, Lynched

ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 3.—A negro named Perry, who shot and killed two men at Ocoee, after he had been refused a vote, was lynched early today outside the corporate limits of Orlando. He was hanged to a tree and his body riddled with bullets.

Election officials said he was refused a vote because he had not paid his poll tax. He returned to the voting place last night with a shotgun and opened fire on white men, killing two, one a veteran of the world war, and wounding several others, not seriously. He was arrested and later taken from the officers by a mob.

today, apparently gave Senator Harding a plurality of approximately 400,000 votes over Governor Cox, returned Senator Cummings by a 2 to 1 vote over Porter, his democratic opponent, re-elected all its republican representatives and elected the republican state ticket from top to bottom.

Connecticut
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—The extent of the republican victory yesterday in Connecticut was emphasized today when a survey was made of the general assembly returns. The democrats on the returns have elected but a single senator and only 13 members of the house, one a woman, Mrs. W. A. Jewett of Tolland. The republicans chose three women, one, Rev. Grace Edwards of New Hartford being regularly ordained. Last session the democrats had 19 of the 35 senators and 11 of the 35 senators. Four towns took advantage of the census returns to each choose an additional member of the house.

The complete vote for president was: Harding, 237,810, and for Cox, 120,674, the former's margin being 117,136. The vote for Senator Brandegee was 215,502, and for his opponent 121,219. Lake, for governor, received 123,494 and his opponent 121,461.

Rhode Island
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 3.—Rhode Island, like the other New England states, established a record in presidential plurality when it gave Harding a margin over Cox, with only three precincts missing, of 52,123. The highest previous was that of 22,975 for McKinley in 1896. All three republican congressmen were easily re-elected and the republican state ticket, led by Lieut. Governor Emory J. San Souci for governor, went through without trouble. The vote of the state, with three precincts missing, was: Harding, 106,696; Cox, 54,567; for governor, San Souci 106,977; Sullivan (D) 56,040.
The 1916 vote for the state was: Hughes, 44,535; Wilson, 40,351.

New Hampshire
MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 3.—New Hampshire, which four years ago went for Wilson by the narrow margin of 56 votes, returned to the republican column yesterday with a plurality of approximately 30,000 for Harding. Senator Josiah W. Wallcut, a republican, was re-elected by large pluralities, and Albert O. Brown, republican, was elected governor. The vote of 215 out of 226 precincts was: Harding, 66,503; Cox, 40,393.
The state vote in 1916 was: Hughes, 13,123; Wilson, 43,779.
The vote with 15 precincts missing, was 73,677 for Harding and 51,518 for

Cox; 75,123 for Brown and 52,012 for Charles E. Wilson; 75,012 for Moses and 54,501 for Stevens.
Congressman Sherman E. Burroughs and Edward H. Wason, were re-elected, these returns giving the former 5709 over Rosecrans W. Pillsbury and the latter 15,502 over Charles J. French. The vote was 16,574 for Burroughs and 27,286 for Pillsbury; 40,623 for Wason and 25,147 for French.

Maine
PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 3.—In a total vote of 19,000 less than that cast in the state election in September, Maine gave Harding a plurality of 75,333 over Cox, 11,000 more than the plurality given Parkhurst for governor. The largest previous presidential plurality in this state was 15,577 for McKinley in 1896. Cox carried only one city—Biddeford—as against 13 carried by Wilson in 1916. The vote of the state complete was:
Harding 131,111; Cox 58,078.
In 1916, the state voted: Hughes, 65,505; Wilson, 64,033.

Vermont
MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 3.—Vermont as always went republican, giving Harding the largest presidential plurality on record in the state, 44,301, as compared with McKinley's plurality of 40,394 in 1916, the previous record. Senator Dillingham and Congressman Dale and Greene, all republicans were re-elected by large pluralities. The vote of the state complete was:
Harding 131,111; Cox 58,078.
In 1916, the state voted: Hughes, 65,505; Wilson, 64,033.

Ohio for Harding
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—Ohio, the home of the democratic and republican candidates for president, yesterday cast its vote decisively in favor of Senator Warren G. Harding, the republican candidate.

On returns from 4178 out of the 7145 precincts in the state, early today, Senator Harding was leading by 195,070. If this ratio continued, Harding would carry his home state by approximately 339,000, the greatest plurality ever given by the Buckeye state for any candidate for office.
Former Mayor Harry L. Davis, republican, of Cleveland, continued to ple, was: Harding, 64,338; Cox, 20,587.

In 1916, the vote was: Hughes, 40,235; Wilson, 22,300. James H. Barnes, republican, was elected governor by a wide margin.

Illinois
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The republicans polled an estimated majority of 777,000 votes in Illinois for Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge and did not fail for short of that figure in electing Len Small of Kankakee, governor, and William B. McKinley senator. Most of the Illinois congressmen will be republicans, while the entire state ticket, including the legislature and the Chicago and Cook county officers, will be of the same party as the coming national administration.

Four years ago, Illinois, with women then voting for president, ran up an estimated plurality of 202,320 for Hughes over Wilson, in a total vote of 2,192,784. The women apparently made no change in the majority this year, except to increase its size, as they voted for Harding and Cox in about the same proportion as the men. Chicago, with 900,000 voters, delivered an estimated plurality of about 400,000 for Harding; 325,000 for McKinley and 200,000 for Small. The city defeated a daylight saving ordinance next year.

"Cal's" Father First to Vote
PLYMOUTH, Vt., Nov. 3.—Plymouth, the birthplace of Vice President-elect Coolidge gave 158 votes to Senator Harding and his running mate and 15 votes to Cox and Roosevelt in yesterday's election. Four years ago the vote was 91 for Hughes and 89 for Wilson.

The first man to cast a ballot in Plymouth yesterday was John C. Coolidge, father of the Massachusetts governor.

Oregon
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—Robert N. Stanfield, republican, had a lead over United States Senator Chamberlain today in 713 precincts, part of which were incomplete. Chamberlain received 13,103 votes and Stanfield 15,173 in the precincts reporting. The three republican congressmen, who sought re-election, were leading their opponents.

Returns from 702 of 1693 precincts in the state gave Harding 10,168 and Cox 9816.

Missouri
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—Returns from 2271 precincts out of 3310 in Missouri gave Harding 333,811; Cox 314,798.
For senator: Spencer (R), 371,821; Long (D), 311,645.
For governor: Hyde (R), 379,755; Atkinson (D), 292,765.

Payton Street—Mr. Juerst

(N.E.A. Staff Special)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—The "most beautiful woman in the world" is on her honeymoon with a multi-millionaire, who is described as a "Greek god".

Miss Helen McMahon, proclaimed by competent judges, nature's fairest handiwork, is the bride of James Cox Brady, son of Anthony N. Brady, "Mystery of Wall Street," who died possessed of $5 million dollars.

His Third Marriage

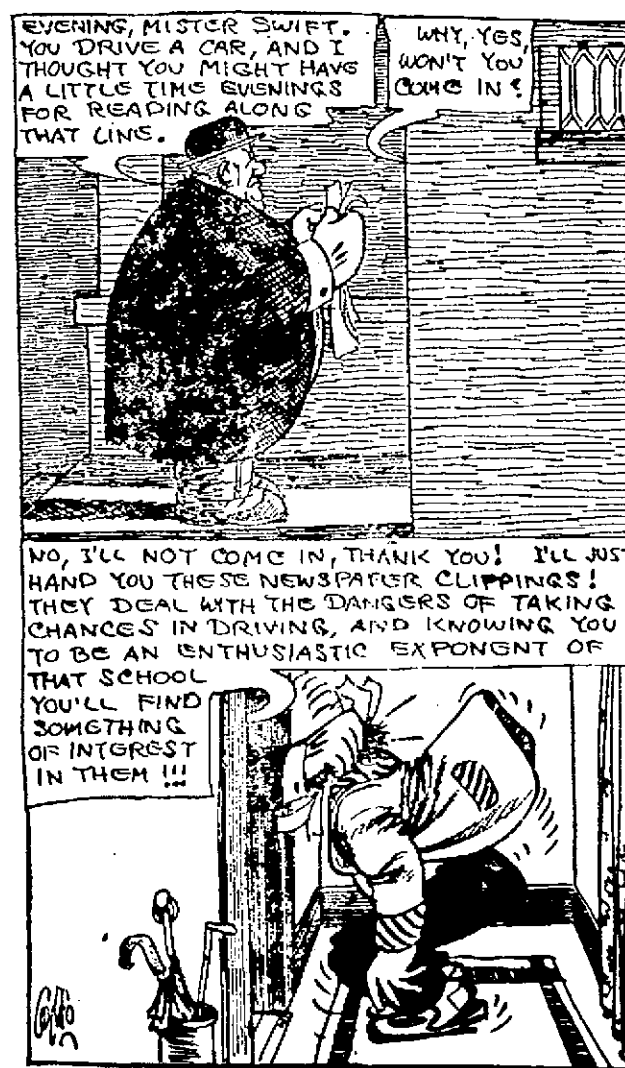

Somewhere in England Brady and his bride are spending the first weeks of their marriage. They were wed at Westminster cathedral. This is Brady's third marriage, he having been widowed twice.

Anthony Brady was born in Lille, Belgium, and emigrated to the United States with his father. At one time Anthony Brady was bartender in New York. Step by step he rose and his first plunge in finance was the consolidation of eastern gas companies. He engineered one great merger after another until when he died he was the power behind

C. C. White, Well-Known Breeder, Tells How. Costs Nothing to Try.

"I gave Don Sung to 34 utility Buff Orpingtons and the egg yield increased from 7 to 28 a day. Don Sung is a wonder and I am now giving it to all my hens regularly." C. C. White, Mr. Cherry Hill Farm, Blackville, Ind.

Mr. White is the well known breeder and exhibitor. He wrote the above letter in December, after his test had shown a gain of 21 eggs a day from 34 hens. We will give you the same offer we made him. Here it is:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself, and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

The vote for president in 1916, was: Hughes, 268,784; Wilson, 247,885.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—The home state of Governor Coolidge gave to the republican national ticket on which he was the candidate for vice president, the overwhelming plurality of more than 400,000. The largest previous presidential plurality in Massachusetts was 173,263 for McKinley in 1896. Boston went republican for the first time in 1896 by a margin of 21,024; yesterday it went republican for the second time by 30,000. The governor's home city of Northampton which gave Hughes only 196 plurality in 1916, gave Harding and Coolidge a plurality of 1870.

All republican congressmen were re-elected including Speaker Gillett, who was unopposed. The republicans also captured the seats of Congressmen Phelan and Olney, democrats, electing in their places Robert S. Maloney and Louis A. Frothingham, respectively, and elected Charles L. Underhill to the seat made vacant by the retirement of Alvan T. Fuller, to make a successful contest for lieutenant governor. This leaves only two democratic congressmen from the state—Gallivan and Tague, both from Boston districts.

BIG REPUBLICAN GAINS

Win Senators in Ten States
—More States Pile Up
Harding's Plurality

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Information received at republican headquarters today was to the effect that the party had gained senators from Arizona, California, Idaho, Maryland, Colorado, Nevada, Oregon, South Dakota and Kentucky.

Information also was received indicating that the republicans had carried New Mexico, probably Tennessee and that they might win in Kentucky and Oklahoma on the presidential ballot.

Republican pluralities indicated in late returns are:

Nevada, 7000; Washington, 60,000; New Jersey, 250,000; Delaware, 14,000; Pennsylvania, 800,000; Wyoming, 5000; Indiana, 250,000; Michigan, 223,000; Minnesota, 70,000; Colorado, 20,000; Nebraska, 70,000; Idaho, 14,000; Illinois, 400,000.

GOV. COX WIRES CONGRATULATIONS

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Governor Cox today wired his congratulations to Senator Harding, pledging support "as a citizen in the executive authority in whatever emergency might arise."

"In the spirit of America, I accept the decision of the majority, tender as the defeated candidate my congratulations, and pledge as a citizen my support to the executive authority in whatever emergency might arise."

The sting of the defeat, borne without emotion by the governor, was increased today by the local county returns. For the first time in his political career, it appeared that his home county had been carried by an opponent.

Butler county, the place of his birth, however, was carried by Cox. Middletown, in that county, where the governor spent several years as a young man, was lost to Harding by five votes.

Dayton News Editorial
The governor's newspaper, the Dayton News, publishes the following editorial:

"The election is over and the citizens of the United States are glad that it is. Feeling runs high during a national campaign, but the moment that the decision of the electorate is announced the thought that the event has passed, the spirit of America is that the voice of the majority must rule in the nation's affairs. From this traditional standpoint there must be no departure now. Figures associated with the election results will be studied and conclusions reached in the course of time. There will soon be a return to our customary pursuits as a people. The period of congratulations over a victory will merge presently with the prompt obedience of our citizenship to the mandate of the men and women who this year formed the majority."

CHAMP CLARK

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—T. V. Hukriede, of Warrenton, Mo., republican, today passed Champ Clark, democrat, former speaker of the house of representatives in the race for representative from the ninth congressional district. Returns from 105 out of 265 gave Hukriede 12,912; Clark 11,407.

Republicans Gain 22 Seats in House—Also Gain in Senate

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(By Associated Press)—One of the most sweeping republican victories in party history today stood recorded for Senator Warren G. Harding for president and a republican congress. Tremendous and unparalleled republican pluralities beginning with the first count of ballots in yesterday's election continued mounting today.

At noon, eastern time today, congressional returns were complete from only 17 states, but all the returns then available showed a republican gain of 25 in the house of representatives, offset by losses of three, in the senate the only republican gain definitely recorded was one from Maryland, but as the landslide motion of the republican national ticket in other states promised further sensational gains with it.

With the presidency and congress the democrats also lost governors, state legislatures and other state and local candidates. The break threatened to extend into the border states of the northern solid south. Republican gains in some southern states were larger than any since the Civil war.

Senator Harding's victory, in what Governor Cox of Ohio, his democratic opponent, and other democratic leaders and many prominent republicans hailed as the "solid south" upon the League of Nations was impressive. In the absence of final figures, the swelling tide of huge pluralities early today gave him assurance of 329 votes in the electoral college as against 127 Continued to Page 4

SOCIALIST VOTE

IN MASSACHUSETTS

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Figures for the socialist vote in Massachusetts from a little less than one-fourth of the state, compiled at noon, showed a total for Eugene V. Debs, the presidential candidate, of 8913. The figures represented 220 out of 1206 precincts of which 221 are in Boston. Walter S. Hutchins, the candidate for governor, was running somewhat behind the head of his ticket.

Returns from the same precincts on the referendum on the bill to permit light wings and beers, showed a yes vote of 155,933, and a no total of 90,402. Boston gave the referendum a yes plurality of nearly 24,000, while 69 precincts outside of Boston that had reported at noon, representing almost entirely small towns, voted yes, 19,311, and rolled up a no vote of 27,164.

Big Republican Victory in Lowell—Largest Vote in City's History

Harding and Coolidge Win by Over
6000—All Republican State Candidates on Winning End—Rogers
Defeats Palmer—Putnam Re-elected—Brennen and Slowey Also Re-elected—Unusual Number of Blanks

The republican tidal wave swept over Lowell and its vicinity yesterday and engulfed all of the local democratic aspirants for office with the exception of three candidates for the legislature from the city.

Lowell, from being a normally democratic city, has been, for the time being swept from its moorings and entered in the republican column.

Harding and Coolidge were victorious over Cox and Roosevelt.

Channing Cox carried the city for governor by a comfortable margin. Fuller won out for the lieutenant governorship, his republican opponent H. M. Washburn of Worcester casting an even smaller vote than had been expected.

George H. Jackson, independent, of Lynn proved to be almost a negligible factor in the state treasurer's contest. The republican voters had evidently learned well the lessons that had been pressed home to them to vote only for candidates bearing the distinct G.O.P. label.

Mrs. Alice E. Cram of Boston, democratic nominee for auditor, the only woman whose name appeared on the state ticket, made a creditable showing, but evidently did not make any special appeal to the voters of her own sex.

In the congressional contest, Hon. John Jacob Rogers came out a substantial winner over his opponent, Jackson Palmer, who made a vigorous fight for election.

Sparks is a Loser
Hon. John T. Sparks, candidate for the state senate from the eighth district, went down to defeat in the general landslide by an adverse majority of 3554 votes credited to his opponent, Frank H. Putnam, republican. Mr. Sparks lost the city of Lowell by 473 votes. Last year he came within 135 votes of winning the district.

Thomas J. Corbett stands out as the one bright star in an otherwise obscured democratic firmament today. He was re-elected to the house of representatives from the 16th district without opposition. Charles H. Slowey and Owen E. Brennen, democrats, went over the top in the 14th representative district by good pluralities.

It was a remarkable election day in Lowell in many respects. There was an unusual tenseness in the air and the voters went about the job of casting their ballots as though they meant business.

Elaborate preparations had been made to get the voters to the polls, especially by the republicans. Fleets of automobiles were ready to be pressed into service to transport persons disinclined to walk from their homes to the polling places. There was scant use for most of the machines. In one precinct the republican city committee had mobilized 25 autos, but not more than five of these were placed in actual use.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Final performance of "Field by the Enemy," the big William Gillette drama of the Civil War, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow there will be an entire change of program.

The big feature for Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Sins of Romance," starring popular Ethel Clayton. A South African story by Cynthia Stockley serves as the foundation for the photoplay.

The heroine is an English girl who was mothered for two years by a Malay woman and was imbued by her with a passionate desire for bright stones and the strange power to cause injury to those whom she might hate. When she sees jewels, she comes under the influence of her craving and will not stop at anything, even theft, to obtain them. When the lure is taken away, she becomes again a gentle, lovely personality. A beautiful romance develops, according to the story, and destroys the spell.

An excellent cast supports the pretty star in "Sins of Romance." Jack Holt is the leading man, and Fred Malatesta and Clarence Geldart are also in the company.

Other feature for the week-end is "Forbidden Valley," a J. Stuart Blackton production telling a romantic story of Kentucky. A comedy, the International News, Will Rogers' "Literature Digest," and a Bertin Holmes travel picture will round out the bill.

D. P. KEITH'S THEATRE

Ah, but there's snap in every act of the good show at the D. P. Keith theatre, this week. It's the kind of a show that leads you on and on from one sterling finish to another. Plenty of comedy and lots of dancing and a pair of comedy skits that are as unusual as they are good. Grace Pratt, in "Just Like a Man," holds the top place. In a comedy by Frank Craven, Arthur Wanzor and Maybelle Fairer offer "She's Hard To Get Along With." The Golden Gate trio are great dancers with musical attachments, while Cole and Mason in "Just For a Kiss," do some particularly clever work, and dance also. Dave Roth does everything anybody could wish, and wins with it. Other acts are: The Ovarios, Spanish xylophonists, and Davis and Pella, equilibristas.

THE STRAND

"The Riddle Woman," with Geraldine Farrar in the stellar role, is creating no end of comment among picture goers of the city. It's a drama of the mysteries of a woman's soul; the uncertainties of a woman's heart. In the star gives a most artistic and finished portrayal. The other feature is Alice Joyce in "The Prey." Both of these pictures are being shown at the

OPERA HOUSE

If you enjoy an abundance of humor, mixed with pathos, a good story that had human characters engaged in its interpretation, a delightful romance and material that should stir one's patriotism to a point of real enthusiasm, then don't miss "Friendly Enemies," which is being presented this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. If you wish to witness one of the best characterizations ever seen on a local stage see Milton Byron's treatment of the role of the old German-American. It's artistic and ranks well with the best efforts of its kind seen on any stage. This is a big claim, but an honest one. See it yourself and be satisfied. Maxwell Briscoe, Miss Presella Knowles and Miss Marguerite Fields are also commendable in their respective roles. Order your tickets early and avoid possible disappointment.

RIALTO THEATRE

Lionel Barrymore in "The Master Mind" is making his last appearance at the Rialto theatre today. It has had big successes for the past two days and should continue to make the house for its limited showing. The picture is the story of an underworld plot of revenge and hate against a brilliant district at-

ber of commerce will be held this week. It is probable that a readjustment of fare rates and the routing and time schedules on the Eastern Massachusetts will be taken up for discussion.

The next meeting of the Lowell home rule committee is scheduled to be held in city hall next week Thursday. This will be a regular monthly meeting.

It is expected that the chamber of commerce committee may have concrete recommendation regarding the improvement of transportation conditions to make at the coming meeting.

There is said to be a strong sentiment among business men in favor of a lowering of fare rates, and it is probable that some effort will be made to bring pressure to bear on the public trustees to grant a more reasonable schedule of charges.

A request has been filed with the governor for a hearing on charges that have been made against the public trustees by the mayor of Revere. The Revere executive has charged that the trustees have not acted in the public's interests, and that they have followed a dictatorial and arrogant policy in dealing with representatives of the public with whom they have come in contact.

It is reported that there is much dissatisfaction in Lawrence over the behavior of the public trustees. It has been publicly advocated there that the city shall take joint action with the head of the Revere city government in petitioning the governor for the removal of the men who have been placed in control of the road.

It was stated by Secretary-Manager George F. Wells, of the chamber of commerce, and a member of the Lowell home rule committee, today, that insofar as his information goes that there has been no cause for complaint by anyone in this city regarding treatment accorded by the trustees.

The news came today that a strike has been narrowly averted on the lines of the Eastern Massachusetts in the Fall River district as a consequence of the objection of the men to the introduction of one-man cars on the more liberally patronized lines. The question of striking, it is stated, has been held in abeyance pending an effort to reach a satisfactory understanding between the men and the company.

Thomas B. Lees, manager of the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts, said today that no fault had been found by the employees of the railway in this section with the introduction or operation of the one-man cars.

Secretary-Manager George F. Wells of the chamber of commerce returned this morning from a four-days' automobile trip. During his journey he visited the White Mountains, stopping at Bethlehem and circling down through Crawford notch and up through Pinkham notch to the site of the old Glen house near the base of Mt. Washington. A snow storm started while Mr. Wells was in Bethlehem Sunday afternoon. From Bethlehem he went to Claremont, N. H., by way of Hanover, where he made a short stop at Dartmouth college. From Claremont his route ran across the Green mountain state to Manchester, Vt. From there a run was made to Huntington and thence over the Mo-hawk trail to Greenfield, Gardner and Lowell.

A considerable number of people took advantage of the chamber of commerce's "open house" invitation to receive the election returns last night. A meeting of representatives of the city's welfare organizations that was to have been held in the chamber's rooms yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering the advisability of starting an organized drive for funds was postponed on account of a lack of attendance of persons interested.

The mail carrier delivering mail at the chamber's rooms is kept busy totting in letters furnishing information to be incorporated in a survey that is being made for the purpose of gathering facts that may be of use in connection with an effort to locate new industries in the city.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.
With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.
It freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of using his discovery, sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Dows, druggists, and Fred Howard have been appointed agent for Allen in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit—Adv.

but the potential figures for the missing districts indicating the election of the republican opponent, Nathan L. Miller, the landslide was complete. United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., republican, was elected by a substantial plurality over his Democratic opponent, Lieut. Governor Harry C. Walker. The republicans will control each branch of the state legislature by more than a two-thirds vote and elected 25 representatives to congress, a net gain of five seats, with two districts missing.

Harding Carries City By 44,041

Complete returns from New York city gave Harding a plurality of 44,041 over Cox.

Regardless of the final outcome, Smith's heavy vote, which is running nearly half a million above that of Cox, is a remarkable tribute to his personal popularity. He carried all five boroughs of the city.

Senator Harding's plurality was double the size of the highest pre-election forecast by republican national and state leaders. Leading in all five boroughs he was the first republican presidential candidate to carry New York city since McKinley accomplished the feat in 1896. He even carried the home district of Charles F. Murphy, Tammany hall leader.

The missing up-state districts were largely rural communities in which Governor Smith is supposed to be in disfavor because of his veto of the daylight saving law.

In the event that Governor Smith

is defeated, rumors were current about the city today that he would become a candidate for mayor next year. Democratic state leaders predicted early today that Smith would carry the state by at least 4000. Republican leaders claimed the state for Miller by from 40,000 to 75,000.

HARDING GOING TO TEXAS

President-elect to Take Rest

—Hundreds of Congratulatory Messages

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 3.—President-elect Harding today turned his thoughts toward rest and recreation before approaching the formulation of his administration machinery and policies.

He plans to take a vacation trip, which will give him two weeks of seclusion on the Texas coast, and a week of scouting in the Panama Canal zone before he goes seriously to work choosing his cabinet and mapping the work he is to do after March 1.

A few tag ends of the campaign remain to be cleared away from his desk first, however, and he will devote the next two or three days to rounding out his affairs here. He probably will leave Saturday morning, not to return again until about mid-December.

One of his tasks today was to read and acknowledge hundreds of telegrams of congratulations that had been pouring in since the balloting began yesterday. During the night, as the proportions of the landslide to him became apparent, the Marion telegraph office was flooded beyond capacity and today the influx of messages of greeting and good wishes continued to come in proportions that outdid the liveliest days of the campaign.

The senator was not at his office until late in the forenoon, having been kept awake until long after midnight by his exultant fellow townsmen, who chose his lawn as the forum for a succession of celebratory speeches that had come to Marion and to their neighbor. They brought along every variety of noise-making device, and both Mr. and Mrs. Harding responded to every serenade by coming out and shaking hands all around.

Office Seekers Busy

Office seekers already have begun their siege and in Texas the senator hopes to get away for a time from the premature cares thus in the making for him. Point Isabel, near Brownsville, and the Mexican border is to be his vacation ground, and hunting and fishing are to occupy him for the 12 or 14 days he remains there.

After that he will make the voyage to the Canal Zone on a passenger liner sailing from New Orleans. He expects to spend a week about the canal, and probably will land on the return trip at New Orleans about Dec. 3. On Dec. 5, he is to speak at a celebration of the Order of Elks at Bedford, Va.

He remains a member of the United States senate but as his plans now show up, he probably will not make more than a short visit, at most, to the national capital before inauguration day. He has a standing pair with Senator Underwood of Alabama, and his friends say that unless some emergency arises, he will let that arrangement protect the republican majority in the opening weeks of the session that begins early next month.

On Jan. 1, when Governor Cox apparently will be succeeded in this state by Harry L. Davis, a republican, Mr. Harding probably will resign his senate seat. Because of the slender republican margin at present in the upper house he does not desire to step out sooner and let the governor fill the vacancy by appointment of a democrat.

For Association of Nations.

Aside from the work of assembling the personnel of a new administrative machine, President-elect Harding has before him the task of bringing together a council of statesmen to map out a plan for an association of nations.

This he has promised to do, as soon as possible after his election and it is understood he will not wait until he has been inaugurated to lay the foundations for the work.

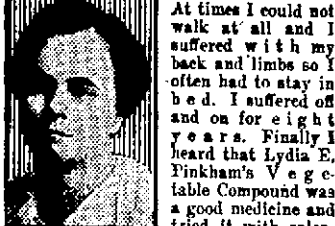

Mixed with the senator's congratulatory messages today, were requests for seats at the inauguration ceremonies in Washington next March. The honor of having made the first application of that sort falls, however, to George W. Cook of Chicago, an official of Swift & Co., who telegraphed two weeks ago to George B. Christian, Jr., the senator's secretary, asking for two seats. Mr. Christian wired back that

Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Recovered.

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had an organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and limbs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine and tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your vegetable Compound and your Blood Medicines and three of my friends are taking them to advantage. You can use my name for a testimonial."

—Mrs. THELMA COVENTRY, 76 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it. All who suffer as she did should not rest until they have tried this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

COUNT MAGRI, NOTED MIDGET, LAID AT REST

MIDDLEBORO, Nov. 3.—In a grave no larger than a child's, the remains of Count Primo Magri, last of the famous midgets, was laid yesterday. His tiny gray casket, for which he had made provisions from the meagre remainder of a once large fortune, was placed in a plot in St. Mary's cemetery. Thus he was separated for all time from the countess, who lies buried at Bridgeport, Conn., by the side of her first husband, General Tom Thumb.

About 100 residents of Middleboro attended the services at 3.30 yesterday morning. They were held at the house of William Egger, local undertaker, who in his capacity as auctioneer, cried the sale of Count Magri's relics two weeks ago. The Rev. Father Albert M. Ready, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, read a prayer for the dead. Pallbearers were four members of the local lodge of Elks, of which organization Count Magri was a member. They were William H. Cronin, Frank H. Harrington, George D. Purdon and James F. McCluskey.

Next Monday at the Merrimack Theatre, "Humorogue."

Harrington, George D. Purdon and James F. McCluskey. Death came to Count Magri last Sunday, after a brief illness at St. Luke's hospital. Loneliness and disappointment following the death of his wife a year ago is thought to have brought his end. Proceeds from the sale of bric-a-brac and gifts which Count and Countess Magri had collected in a score of years as the world's diminutive favorites brought less than $1000. This fact added to the burden carried by the broken count.

Although a native of Bologna, Italy, where he had hoped to return in the spring, Count Magri was a naturalized American citizen. Friends are saying that his death in America is the one thing which lessens the tragic circumstance surrounding the close of his life. They believe he would rather be buried here, even away from the countess, for it was in America he found happiness and success.

THIS ACTUALLY REMOVES SUPERFLUOUS HAIR ROOTS

(Entirely New and Quick Method) By the introduction in this country of what is known as the "phelactine" mover, the local action, as having removed the hair root, is a new, different from all others, and far better—because it actually removes the hair root, as well as the surface hair! It is almost instantaneous, perfectly harmless, odorless and non-irritating. Just stick a stick of phelactine from your drugstore, follow the simple directions—and see the hair roots come out, with your own eyes! No depilatory, or electrical treatment can produce this result. The skin is left soft, smooth and hairless as a child's. Phelactine can be used with absolute safety—one could even eat it with impunity.—Ady.

THE SIX LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES ELECTED YESTERDAY

from the police point of view. There were no unusual crowds on the streets until nightfall. Peace reigned around the polling booths. The heated arguments in public places that have characterized other elections were lacking.

Vote Like Veterans

It was the almost universal testimony that the women went about the job as though they had been at it all of their lives. The delays that had been expected as the result of the new citizens getting tangled up over their ballots did not materialize. The fact that the republicans had been more active in registering their women than had the democrats contributed to the large republican vote.

One of the outcomes of the election is likely to be a demand for some sort of relief in the future for overworked election officials. Some of them were on duty for nearly 22 hours in the street. It is possible that there may be an agitation for two sets of officials—one to check-up the voting and the other to count the ballots. Another remedy that has been suggested is the dividing up of the voters into smaller units by the establishment of more polling places.

It was not until after five o'clock in the afternoon that any of the real live evidences of an election day began to be apparent in Lowell. At that time a crowd began to assemble in front of The Sun office in Merrimack square. This crowd continued to grow during the evening and at one time numbered over 3000 people.

The Sun bulletins came along at a lively pace, and kept the crowd informed of the trend of events locally and in the state and nation. As there was an occasional let-up in the receipt of the news, moving and other pictures were shown to entertain the crowd.

Quiet Election Night

It was the quietest election night crowd that ever assembled in front of The Sun's bulletin. In place of the usual cheers as the results of the balloting were given on the screen, there was an almost undisturbed silence. The republicans present showed scant signs of enjoyment as the returns came in indicating the certainty of the election of Harding and Coolidge. A funeral could not have been much more solemn.

It can scarcely be said that the result was in doubt at any time during the evening. The succession of heavy republican majorities in different parts of the country made the certainty of Harding's triumph only too apparent. About 10 o'clock the crowd began to be impatient, and the sky commenced to send down torrents of rain. All but a few determined individuals, clad in Continued on Page 5 for Governor Cox with 75 doubtful, inclusive of states where the republican tide was running strong. The unofficial results presented a larger majority in the electoral college for Senator Harding and his running mate, Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts than any since 1853, except alone the vote of 435 for President Wilson in 1912, during the republican split.

The republican congressional swing was a strong, increased majorities in both senate and house being marked up. Early today, victory for virtually all 15 republican senators up for reelection was spelled by the returns, while about a half-dozen of the 19 democratic candidates were battling against republican opponents.

Republican governors in Connecticut, Illinois—where former Senator Lewis was defeated by Len Small—Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan and New Hampshire were successful. And in Tennessee, Gov. Roberts was behind Alf Taylor, republican, but with democrats claiming Roberts' election.

Due to pluralities and leads indicated certainty of 329 electoral votes for Harding, 127 for Cox and 75 in doubt.

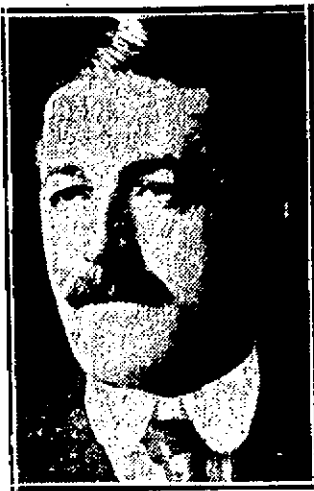

REPUBLICANS GAIN SEATS IN CONGRESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Republican control of congress for two years more, with an increased house majority and a prospective increase in the senate, was a major part of the election sweep.

A net gain of 29 votes in the house was shown with complete returns from only 17 states, but with most of the democratic strongholds reporting.

Eight of the 15 republican senatorial candidates had come in winners.

ners today, and the seven others had substantial leads, while in 10 other states all of the republican candidates were reported in the van.

For the 19 democratic senate seats, nine of the minority party had been returned winners—all from southern states—while in the border and western states, the others were fighting an uphill battle.

That the general republican landslide would seat several more republican senators was predicted confidently by republican campaign managers, whose claims included a majority of eight to 10 in the next senate.

Of the democrats, Senator Underwood of Alabama, minority leader, was re-elected, and Representative Helms was chosen to succeed the late Senator Bankhead. A new face in the senate on the democratic side, will be Representative Caraway of Arkansas, who defeated Senator Kirby in the primaries and was elected yesterday.

In the house most of the veterans, both republicans and democrats, were re-elected, including Speaker Gillett, now holding the record for continuous service and elected for his 15th term. Former Speaker Cannon, who has served 22 terms but not continuously, also was re-elected.

LUNCHEON FOR GOV. COOLIDGE

BOSON, Nov. 3.—Gov. Coolidge, vice president-elect, awoke today and found scores of congratulatory messages. The governor had made no special plans for the immediate future and said he would continue to go daily to the state house, permitting Gov.-elect Channing H. Cox, the present lieutenant governor to take a vacation now. The governor said he was looking forward to the usual family Thanksgiving day reunion at his home in Northampton. Immediately after that he plans to return to Boston for a special session of the legislature.

The vice president-elect's program for the day called for attendance at a meeting of the governor's council at noon and for his presence at luncheon as the guest of the City club at 1 o'clock.

The 500 members of the City club planned to march to the state house to meet Gov. Coolidge and to escort him with his council, Senator Lodge and others to the club rooms, with a band. Several congressmen were on the list of guests invited to attend the luncheon at which it was announced, Gov. Coolidge would speak.

California

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Returns from 1220 precincts out of 6164 in the senatorial contest today gave Samuel M. Shortridge, republican, 73,015, and Senator James J. Phelan, democrat, 56,523.

The California anti-alien land amendment, which has been the subject of diplomatic exchanges between the United States and Japan, had a lead of slightly more than two and one-half to one.

The vote from 353 precincts was: For adoption 19,225; against 7114.

For president 1753 precincts gave Harding 209,011; Cox, 67,620.

Harding Carries New Orleans. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—Senator Harding polled the unprecedented total of 17,030 votes in the city of New Orleans with five of the 137 precincts missing. He carried 10 known country parishes, apparently was an easy victor in the third congressional district, and eight city precincts, mostly in the uptown residence section, gave him majorities.

Texas

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 3.—Interest centered today in the congressional race in the 14th Texas district, where on the face of unofficial returns from an estimated 50 per cent. of the votes cast, Harry M. Wurzbach, republican, was leading his democratic opponent, Carlos Bee, incumbent by more than 2000. Should Wurzbach maintain his lead, it would be the first time in 28 years that a republican congressman has been elected from southwest

Texas. The democratic state ticket, according to unofficial and incomplete returns made a clean sweep by majorities of about 5 to 1. All democratic congressmen also were elected except in the 14th district.

West Virginia. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 3.—Formerly classed as a doubtful state, West Virginia today continued to maintain a wide margin in favor of Harding for president and Morgan, republican, for governor. The election of candidates to congress was in doubt, however, although the republicans were leading in all six districts.

Returns from 768 precincts out of 1858 in the state indicate that Harding carried the state by approximately 78,000.

Tennessee

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—Although democratic leaders refused to admit that the election had resulted in any break in the solid south, republicans today claimed the election of Alf Taylor, republican candidate for governor of Tennessee, and expressed confidence that complete returns would give the state to Senator Harding. Returns from 862 precincts out of 2069, gave Cox 81,135; Harding, 79,613; Taylor, 77,534; Roberts, 72,531.

These figures were based on incomplete returns from 68 of the 95 counties, including those from a large part of eastern Tennessee which is strongly republican.

Roosevelt to Coolidge. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Franklin D. Roosevelt today sent the following telegram to Calvin Coolidge:

"My sincere congratulations to you. I trust that, under the administration of Mr. Harding and yourself, the nation will grow in prosperity and in the unselfish ideals of the Americanism which unprejudiced citizens of all parties desire."

Maryland

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 3.—The Baltimore Sun (Democratic) today conceded that Senator J. W. Smith had been defeated by O. F. Weller, republican, by 15,000.

Big Saving in Year

The process of manufacturing these paper garments is the discovery of Miss Pringle, developed with the assistance of Miss Bacon, who helped especially in the molding together of the garments' seams. Miss Bacon has also invented a machine for use in hotel rooms from which, on the deposit of a coin, transient guests may get any of these garments.

The use of these garments, the inventors explain, will not only permit the wearer to change every day at small expense, by throwing the garment in the waste paper basket instead of in the laundry hamper, but will eliminate the cost of laundering, now risen as high as 12 cents a piece. And it will eliminate the original cost of any one of these garments, now triple that of before the war. The saving on the year will be the difference between five times 365, or $18.25, and 12 times 365, or $43.80, plus the cost of about four editions of the cloth garment. According to Miss Pringle it will mean easily a saving of $50 per year per garment.

Paper Napkins Gave Idea

"Paper napkins, and the immense saving they have already made in family wash bills, gave me the idea," she says. "We have overcome the objection to the roughness of paper against the skin by originating a pulp which converts into the softest of creases yet so tough enough to hold together for some time."

The president and general manager of the company will be Miss Pringle, who already conducts her own ranch in the vicinity of Denver and raises blooded Holstein cattle on an extensive scale. The vice-president and treasurer will be Miss Bacon and she has personally developed on the family homestead at Mountain View, Cal., large groves of cherry trees and plums, with a resultant income large enough to take care of all Bacons now or to come, independent of the earnings of Mr. Bacon on the stage.

The first factory is to be built near Miss Pringle's Colorado ranch, she having already secured a large tract of short timber in the spine of the Rocky Mountains in that vicinity. The two women have also secured an option on an extensive wood belt in the Coeur d'Alene Lake region of northern Idaho.

TIPS AND RECIPES BY SISTER MARY

Before washing handkerchiefs in the same suds with the rest of the clothes I like to put them in a solution of salt and water or just clear cold water. Put them in a tub or pail and wash them for three or four minutes using a hand vacuum washer. It's a good plan to let the handkerchiefs stand in the water for 15 or 20 minutes.

This preliminary rinsing does two things. It makes the handkerchiefs pliant to handle and keeps them whiter. A handkerchief manager to get grimy looking very quickly and hot soap suds seems to set the black in the linen.

Menu For Tomorrow

Breakfast—Grapes, cereal with top milk, cinnamon toast, coffee.
Luncheon—Vegetable soup, croutons, nut pinner bread, apple sauce, tea.
Dinner—Boiled halibut with egg sauce, sliced potatoes, baked tomatoes, fruit salad, crackers and cheese, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Tomatoes can be easily and quickly baked without the extra work of stuffing and are quite as good for a change. Wash carefully and put in buttered muffin pans to bake. The skin will burst after a few minutes' cooking. Then dot with butter and season with salt and pepper and finish baking.

BOILED HALIBUT

1 thick slice halibut
Salt
Lemon juice
1 whole small onion.
Wash fish and tie in piece of cheese cloth. Cook in boiling salted water to which 2 tablespoons lemon juice has been added 25 or 30 minutes. The onion should not be cut in slices and should be put into the water. When done, remove to a hot plate and pour over sauce.

EGG SAUCE
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 egg (yolk)
2 hard-boiled eggs
Melt butter, stir in flour, salt and pepper and slowly add water, stirring constantly. Add yolk of egg well beaten and hard-boiled eggs cut in rather thick slices. Do not cook after adding yolk of egg.

FEW TOURISTS VISITING IRELAND

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—The tourist business in Ireland has been seriously affected by the revolutionary disorders. Tourist agents and hotel keepers are in despair. North Wales and the Isle of Man have captured the visitors who used to come to Killarney and Glengarriff. There has been a noticeable absence of the usual influx of Americans.

Publican has suffered less proportionately than other places, but Dublin's visitors did not take the risk of leaving it for the provinces. There was no danger to life or limb, but the dislocation of the railway service caused by the refusal of the railway men to carry soldiers, police or munitions made the train service so uncertain that nobody could count safely on reaching or returning from any given destination within the limits of a holiday.

GOVERNORS TO TAKE UP HOUSING PROBLEMS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 3.—State governors will consider housing problems and ways to promote ownership of homes in their 12th annual conference at Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 1 to 3. Other subjects coming before the governors this year, as announced here by Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference, are:

Decentralization of governmental functions and activities, in relation to the developing tendency toward centralization in the national government.

The Kansas industrial relations court.

Sources of income and the disbursement of state governments.

The general agricultural situation.

Reports will be presented to the governors from the commissioners on uniform state laws and the National Organization of state railroad commissioners.

"The coming conference, promises to be one of the most largely attended and important gatherings of governors of our states that has ever been held," according to Secretary Riley. "Not only will most of the present governors be in attendance but a large number of new governors, to be elected on November 2."

"The conference will be held just prior to the convening of legislatures in most of the states, and will be of great interest to the governors who must submit their recommendations to these bodies."

"STORE AHEAD"

VIENNA CROWDED Rooming Accommodations Taxed to Capacity

VIENNA, Nov. 3.—Like nearly every other city in Europe, Vienna's rooming accommodation is taxed beyond capacity. The hotels are overflowing at exorbitant rates (in crown values). Every train unloads its quota of newcomers to travel in taxicabs and from one end of the city to the other in search of sleeping quarters, while even the room requisitioning system by the government fails to house many thousands.

An American visitor wishing to go from Vienna to Budapest, telegraphed daily for a week, receiving daily the reply, "nothing available." An American woman, wife of a consul arrived the other day and it required all the influence of four American officials to secure her a bathroom in which to sleep.

To solve the permanent rooming problem the city authorities have passed an ordinance permitting the reconstruction of the attics of apartment buildings for sleeping quarters. This space under the roof is meant as storage room for tenants, and for laundry drying purposes. It was unlawful to permit anyone to sleep there and an ordinance required the reconstruction to lock the entrance at 7 p. m. It is estimated that there are 40,000 such buildings in the city, but how many landings remain to be seen.

PROMOTE THRIFT AND PROTECT SAVINGS

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—An organization to promote thrift and to protect savings has been incorporated here as an outgrowth of the war-time conservation campaigns and the recent Ponzi high finance fiasco. It will be known as the Association for the Promotion and Protection of Savings and will combine with the encouragement of safe investment on educational program to combat quick-rich schemes.

At the head of the association is Alfred L. Allen, former governor of the Federal Reserve bank in this city. Those associated with him include leaders in the thrift, liberty loan and other campaigns of recent years. The association will co-operate with the work of the Savings Division of the treasury department, but its activities will be distinct from any government branch.

The educational department will be divided into school and home economy sections, the former covering education in thrift in colleges, public, private, parochial, normal and vocational schools and the latter working with women's organizations, fraternal bodies, the army and navy, the churches and professions.

The business department will be divided into industrial and commercial, agriculture and banking sections. The industrial and commercial section will work with labor unions, associated industries, the wholesale and retail trades, Americanization committee and the Young Men's Christian association industrial secretaries. The agricultural section will be concerned with the granges and farm bureaus and the banking section will have its work with the savings, national, trust company and co-operative banks, insurance and investment banking concerns and trust companies.

FISH AND GAME CLUB HOLDS LADIES' NIGHT

Members of the Lowell Fish and Game association held their annual ladies' night last evening at the Colonial theatre in Middlesex street and the affair attracted its usual large crowd of sportsmen and their lady friends.

The evening's program included remarks by Chief Game Warden O. C. Bourne, who brought with him moving pictures made and sanctioned by the state fish and game authorities, showing the raising of fish and game. The films proved most interesting and instructive. Following their exhibition, five reels of pictures released by the publishers of Field and Stream, were thrown on the screen. Among the subjects which were included were the fishing at Catalina Island, a turkey hunt, the raising of bass in the Potomac river, a moose hunt in New Brunswick and a duck hunt at Charles Neck, Va.

The moving pictures were interspersed with orchestral selections. The ladies present received favors of carnations and the gentlemen copies of Field and Stream. Simon B. Harris, president of the association, welcomed the guests.

GREAT REPUBLICAN VICTORY

The sovereign people have spoken and their will expressed in unmistakable terms at the polls yesterday indicates an emphatic verdict in favor of returning the republican party to power to assume control of the nation's business and to direct its destinies for the next four years.

Although the democrats who believed in the policies of their party made an uphill battle, very few failed to realize the trend of popular sentiment in favor of the republican party. There appeared to be a change in favor of Governor Cox during the last two weeks of the campaign; but it was too weak to carry him beyond the borders of the solid south.

At the present time there is no certainty as to the precise electoral vote for Harding and Coolidge; but enough is known to realize that the republican victory in yesterday's election is practically as great as that of Roosevelt over Parker in 1904 or of Taft over Bryan in 1908.

It appears also that the landslide has extended to most of the less important offices, giving the republicans sweeping majorities in contests for United States senators and congressmen.

It is, therefore, practically certain that President Harding will have a republican senate and house to co-operate with him in carrying out the party program.

It is better to have it so than to have divided responsibility, delay and political bickering that could only retard effective progress in legislation and restrict executive control.

THE CHARTER PROBLEM

Now that the national election is over, the citizens of Lowell will have an opportunity to study the charter question at their leisure. Rarely have we had a more representative commission appointed for any purpose than that which is now considering the revision of the city charter or rather the drafting of a new charter.

So far as we can judge of public sentiment outside city hall, there is a popular demand for a charter that will give us a much larger council and remove all barriers against representative men becoming members thereof.

Under the present commission the council has but five members, whereas there may be a great many men throughout the city, men of superior ability who would willingly give their services to the city free of charge as many business men gave it in the chamber of commerce. With a large legislative body the executive functions of government should be placed in the hands of a mayor, who should be well paid for his services and should have the general direction of the municipal departments just as a mill agent controls and directs the different departments of his factory. A good business man as mayor will serve practically all the purposes of the professional city manager and he will have the advantage of being a resident of Lowell, interested personally in its progress and not merely an adventurer.

The mayor in order to be a real guardian of the city's interests should have the veto power with the power of appointment and removal of the heads of departments subject to the confirmation of the council.

With such a deliberate course in framing a charter, there is no reason why a document should not be provided that will be acceptable to the members of the legislature and finally to the voters of the city. No doubt the charter commission will submit its draft of the new charter to the Lowell members of the legislature before submitting it for enactment. This would give the members of the Lowell delegation an opportunity to suggest changes that might remove some cause of criticism after the measure should be entered in the legislature.

The commission has a rather onerous duty on its hands, and one that may have a very important bearing upon the future of Lowell. It is, therefore, to be hoped that a charter will be evolved which will be specially adapted to the needs of our city and calculated to promote the public welfare, progress and prosperity. None of these desirable objects will be accomplished if any attempt be made to inject the virus of political partisanship into the organic law of the city. What is needed in the charter is clearness, simplicity and a practical method of transacting the city's business with sagacity and despatch and with fairness to all classes of citizens.

A GREAT IDEAL

Since long before the angelic host proclaimed "peace on earth, good will to men," the human race has been dreaming of a time when men should beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks.

No sane man or woman questions the horror of war, or the desirability of abolishing it forever. If there were nothing else to be said against war than that it seldom settles anything except which nations are the most powerful and always leaves an undying heritage of hate to breed other conflicts, that would be sufficient to condemn resort to the arbitrament of the battlefield.

The present day consciousness of the horror of war has been arrived at by slow and patient development. War not so long ago was the normal occupation of a large part of the human race. The very word "civilization" represents man's attempt to create something and achieve something out of the realm of war.

In the late election that the has had exemplified a long step has been taken toward the dawn day when the world's slabaster shall gleam undimmed by the tears caused by war. It has been no light thing that for months a hundred million people have had their attention centered upon the issue of bringing peace to the world by the setting up of an international court of justice that shall arbitrate between nations as the courts of law now settle differences between individuals.

Whether or not we shall enter the League of Nations, and under what conditions we shall take our place therein if we do enter, are matters for the future to settle. Our own country and the world, however, are distinct gainers because in the campaign now closed it has been an issue.

RUSSIAN BLOCKADE PROPOSED

That is bad news that comes from southern Russia regarding the defeat of General Wrangel's force. The defeat may not be quite so crushing as at first reported, but it was expected that the Bolshevik armies would concentrate their entire resources in an effort to defeat General Wrangel after they had concluded a truce with Poland.

One of the European powers, probably England, has asked the United States government what its attitude would be toward a blockade of southern Russia in the interest of General Wrangel. Already the United States has taken a stand against interference in Russian affairs and it is not likely that the authorities at Washington would be a party to a blockade that might cause much suffering and vastly increase the number of deaths from starvation. Already the greater part of northern Russia is suffering terribly from famine and has been for two years. The city of Petrograd has been decimated by famine, its population having been reduced from 2,000,000 to less than 600,000. To make the situation in Russia any worse than it is at present would be a most serious undertaking. It is just as bad to starve a people to death as to go in and slaughter them outright.

General Wrangel should receive assistance to enable him to resist the enemy and stall them for the winter; but a blockade that might cause the death of millions of noncombatants is not to be favored. It would be poor policy to send our relief associations into Europe to save the lives of starving peoples and at the same time deliberately to be a party to a movement to cut off millions of people from the chief source of food supply by which they can sustain life. It might entail humanitarianism that would disgrace civilization. We should have no part in any such business, however much we wish to aid General Wrangel and overthrow the Bolshevik regime.

NEEDED PROTECTION

Within the last few months several atrocious crimes have been committed in Massachusetts that have been traced to individuals who have turned out to be mentally defective. The question that naturally presents itself is why these persons, who were known to be irresponsible, have been permitted to be at large. In some of the cases the persons had been under the care of the state and were known to its officials to be defective.

In the Highlands section of Lowell for a month or more past the women of the households have been in a state of bordering on terror as a result of the activities of a strange man who has accosted and taken hold of women in the street, and otherwise made himself a nuisance.

It is said that citizens of the section have brought to the attention of officials the probability that the acts may be those of a man who is believed to be mentally irresponsible. The same citizens complain that no steps apparently have been taken to find out whether the individual whom they have pointed out is a safe person to be at large.

The safety of the people, not alone of Lowell but of the whole state, would seem to require that a closer supervision be kept over defective unfortunate men who may at any time become a menace to the community.

CENSUS OF BOSTON

The city of Boston is demanding another count of her population, Mayor Peters claiming that the official count announced from Washington was far from being correct. The population as given shows an increase of only one-third of one per cent since 1915, which indicates that since that year the city of Boston has stopped growing. Mayor Peters claims to have made an investigation that proves the official count to be wrong. He adds that the cold weather during which the census was taken, together with the terror of arrest spread among the foreign-born by Attorney-General Palmer's "Red" raids, caused the people to give false statements. That is a very plausible statement and it is probably true. Nevertheless, it is very difficult to get the census bureau to make a recount namely for the reason that if it be granted to one city scores of others would demand similar consideration.

Lowell is a good place for the commission on the erection of a state soldiers' memorial to come to for information. The members might get a few useful hints if they were taken over to the rapidly evolving new architecture.

Uncle Sam would be glad to welcome all of the host of emigrants who are bound hither, if he could only be assured that they are the kind of material out of which loyal citizens and allies can be made.

Love certainly laughed at the smiths in the southern jail from which a young woman prisoner escaped with one of the guards.

Turning Away Wrath

Mrs. Cluck stopped in the doorway of the parlor, literally choked with rage. "John," she snapped, when she had recovered her breath, "take your feet off that table."

"Mrs. Cluck," John answered, "there's only one person who can talk that way to me."

"And who is that?" she demanded, advancing with a dangerous light in her eyes.

"You, my dear," replied John, meekly, as he replaced his feet on the well polished linoleum.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Show Some Service

At 2 o'clock, when the midday rush was over, a customer entered the restaurant and ordered some lunch. Half an hour passed and he sat unused and miserable. Then, as the hands of the clock indicated a quarter to 3, his face grew grim and desperate.

"Waiter," he called out, "what time do you close?"

"Half past six, sir," replied the astonished server.

With a deep note of concern in his voice, the customer asked: "You'll be careful not to lock me in, won't you?"—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Official—and Correct

Representative Fear interrupted the reading of a report to say: "Official language is always rather ludicrous. Once two scrubwomen in government employ had an argument, as a result of which the weaker vessel was laid up for two days."

"An official inquiry was duly held, and the victorious scrubwoman received a letter which said, among other things: 'Is it true, as reported, that said Mrs. Hagan received certain ocular and nasal contusions at your hands?'"

"The scrubwomen in official language wrote back: 'I regret to say that the answer is in the infirmary.'"—Detroit Free Press.

Remembered Early Training

A nervous neighbor returned from his first driving lesson, boasting of his easy mastery of the new car. To please him several of his family consented to ride with him, and things went well until they reached a good country road, when the car coming up behind them honked its horn.

The startled driver jerked his wheel to the right, running down a steep bank, then to the left, heading into a fence, and to the right again, luckily bringing up in the road.

"Dad, what in thunder are you trying to do?" demanded his breathless son.

"Why, son," replied the new driver calmly, "I was just practicing to turn out for teams."—Los Angeles Times.

Golf Madness

(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.) Once he pursued the heavenly orb. Through all the ages of the night; Now one small earthly pill absorbs His skill from dawn till dusk of night.

Once in the narrow way and straight He labored hard to win men's souls; Now every poor soul has to wait Till he has finished eighteen holes.

Once he pursued the dream of fame And steeped his mind in studious lore; Now he sweats gallons at his game To slice one digit from his score.

Once he was virtuous and wise And modest, very much like you, But now he boasts and brags and lies Of holing out in three, or two.

Once he had eloquence and power; But now he's of the malleable metal; And rants and rambles on for hours Of creaks and brassies, drives and putts.

Once he pursued the golden girl. His queen of love, his star of life; But now the fogged and fuddled churl Forgets he ever had a wife.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I was visiting in a Lowell home a few evenings ago when I heard the mistress of the house say to her young son, who was performing a task that had been allotted to him with obvious reluctance: "Jack, if you ever met a snail it must have overtaken you." That set me to wondering how slow a snail really is. We have all heard about a "snail's pace" and of people who were "slower than snails." But, how many of us have ever seen one of the animals? I caught my first glimpse of one in the home of another friend the next evening. It was in a big bowl containing goldfish. It was somewhere in size between a hicknut and an English walnut with a dark round shell with an opening on one side through which the living occupant could be seen. When I first saw the creature it was lying on the pebbles at the bottom of the globe. It appeared to be motionless and to have no particular object in life. I was a bit startled a little later in glancing at the globe to notice that Mr. Snail had changed his location and attached himself to the side of the globe. How he hung on I do not know, but hang on to the slippery glass he certainly did, and not only that but he had started on a journey from the bottom of the globe to the surface of the water, a distance of about five inches. I watched the uncanny creature with the closest intemperance for three or four minutes, but not once could I detect that he moved a particle. Then I looked away for awhile and when I glanced back again Mr. Snail had made perceptible progress toward his goal at the surface of the water. By placing a pencil on the outside of the globe it was possible to determine that the animal was actually moving, but, oh, with what tantalizing slowness! In the space of about 15 minutes, though, the top of the water was reached. There the animal rested for a while for a breath of air and then leisurely dropped back to the bottom of the water again.

It is estimated that nearly 40,000 snails or 60 percent of the total number of American bodies buried in European countries are to be sent back to the United States.

LOWELL OUTCLASSES THE
JIGGERS, '12 TO '3

Lowell completely outclassed Worcester in a fast polo game at the Crescent rink last night and won by the score of 12 to 3.

Worcester entered the rink minus "Jigger" Higgins, who was injured in the Lowell-Worcester game at Worcester on Saturday night, and Trulson played second rush.

Lowell played fine polo, with Hart and Davies performing in expert fashion on the rush line. Bouchard also went better than in recent games, while Barney Doherty was all to the good at halfback and Welch put up a good game at goal.

Worcester opened the scoring with one by St. Aubin, but two minutes later Davies counted and Hart broke the tie nine seconds later. Trulson then drove in a goal, again knotting the score. Two by Lowell in quick order with Hart and Bouchard, the men behind the drives, gave Lowell a two-point lead. Just before the visitors scored in the second period, Worcester failed to score in the second and third periods, while Lowell got five in the second session and three in the final 15 minutes of play. Davies and Hart each got two in the second period, with Bouchard hammering in one. Hart, Bouchard and Davies each counted in the final stanza.

The lineup and score:

POLO NOTES

The fans greatly enjoyed the Lowell victory. It was the first home victory in two weeks.

Hart and Davies played a classy combination game last night and had the Worcester defense men baffled.

Purcell put up a good game at goal, and only for some classy stops the score would have been much larger.

Providence will play here Friday night.

Mayor Thompson and the municipal council have accepted the invitation to attend the Harkers' night celebration next Tuesday evening. The mayor will make the presentation speech.

to Mothers

Who Have Delicate Children

This mother writes:—"My little girl five years of age had been delicate all her life. Pneumonia left her in a very weak, run-down, nervous condition with no appetite. We were very much worried. Our druggist, who is a doctor, said Vinol was the best tonic he knew for one in her condition. We tried it and you ought to see how she has improved by its use. I cannot say too much for Vinol."

VICTORY FOR INDIANS

At the recent Indian-Rosindale football game played on the air grounds, a play arose that developed considerable controversy and resulted in the contest being called a tie. The play occurred while the Indians had possession of the ball close to their own line. Lynch punted from behind the Indian goal line and the ball struck the crossbar, bounding back toward the kicker where it was recovered by a Rosindale player. Walter Camp, one of the country's leading authorities on the rules, was appealed to for a decision and he decided to be for a safety, thereby scoring two points for Rosindale. This gives the Indians the game by the score of 7 to 2.

VINCENT MARTIN WINS

LICENSES GRANTED

At the regular meeting of the license commissioners last evening a license was granted to Nerses H. Mathebian to run a barroom and special dining room in the New American hotel in Central street. The license commissioners advertised a public hearing on the question of granting the license, but at the meeting last night there were no objectors present and so the matter went through without any difficulty. The following minor licenses were granted: to sell on the Lord's day, Felicitia Bouthillier, 25 Fifth avenue; common victualer, Y.W.C.A., John street; lodging house, Sam Dussault, 453 Suffolk street; eating place, Lowell Co-operative association, 106 Middlesex street; R. The new pump is to be installed at the Branch street house.

The Vote in Lowell

rain coats, or carrying umbrellas, who sought shelter in doorways and under awnings, departed for home. These few hung on until The Sun flashed the news on the screen that Harding's election was conceded.

One of the last persons to leave the square—evidently a democrat—observed as he turned the corner of Central street, "Well, the democrats have cast the two per cent. of the total vote required to keep the party designation on the official ballot and we are not nearly as badly off as the republicans were eight years ago."

The number of blanks yesterday was much greater in proportion to the total vote than in any previous election.

The local returns were received with tantizing slowness. The first bulletin came from Tewksbury about five o'clock and indicated nothing more unusual than that the old town had gone republican by about the expected plurality. Later other towns came straggling along. About eight o'clock the first city returns arrived; the last not being available until four o'clock this morning. It was 4:30 this morning before the precinct officers finished their work at city hall all because of the women's vote. The Lowell vote by wards and precincts is appended:

SLAYER HANGED TO TREE

Negro Who Killed Two Men, After Being Refused a Vote, Lynched

ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 3.—A negro named Perry, who shot and killed two men at Ocoee, after he had been refused a vote, was lynched early today outside the corporate limits of Orlando. He was hanged to a tree and his body riddled with bullets.

Election officials said he was refused a vote because he had not paid his poll tax. He returned to the voting place last night with a shotgun, and opened fire on white men, killing two, one a veteran of the world war, and wounding several others, not seriously. He was arrested and later taken from the officers by a mob.

today, apparently gave Senator Harding a plurality of approximately 400,000 votes over Governor Cox, returned Senator Cummins by a 2 to 1 vote over Porter, his democratic opponent, re-elected all its republican representatives and elected the republican state ticket from top to bottom.

Connecticut

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—The extent of the republican victory yesterday in Connecticut was emphasized today when a survey was made of the general assembly returns. The democrats on the returns, have elected but a single senator and only 13 members of the house, one woman, Mrs. W. A. Jewett of Tolland. The republicans chose three women, one, Rev. Grace Edwards of New Hartford being regularly ordained. Last session the democrats had 69 house members and 11 of the 35 senators. Four towns took advantage of the census returns to each choose an additional member of the house.

The complete vote for president was: Harding, 237,810, and for Cox, 120,674. The former's margin being 117,136. The vote for Senator Brandegee was 216,503, and for his opponent 131,219. Lake, for governor received 232,191 and his opponent 121,461.

Rhode Island

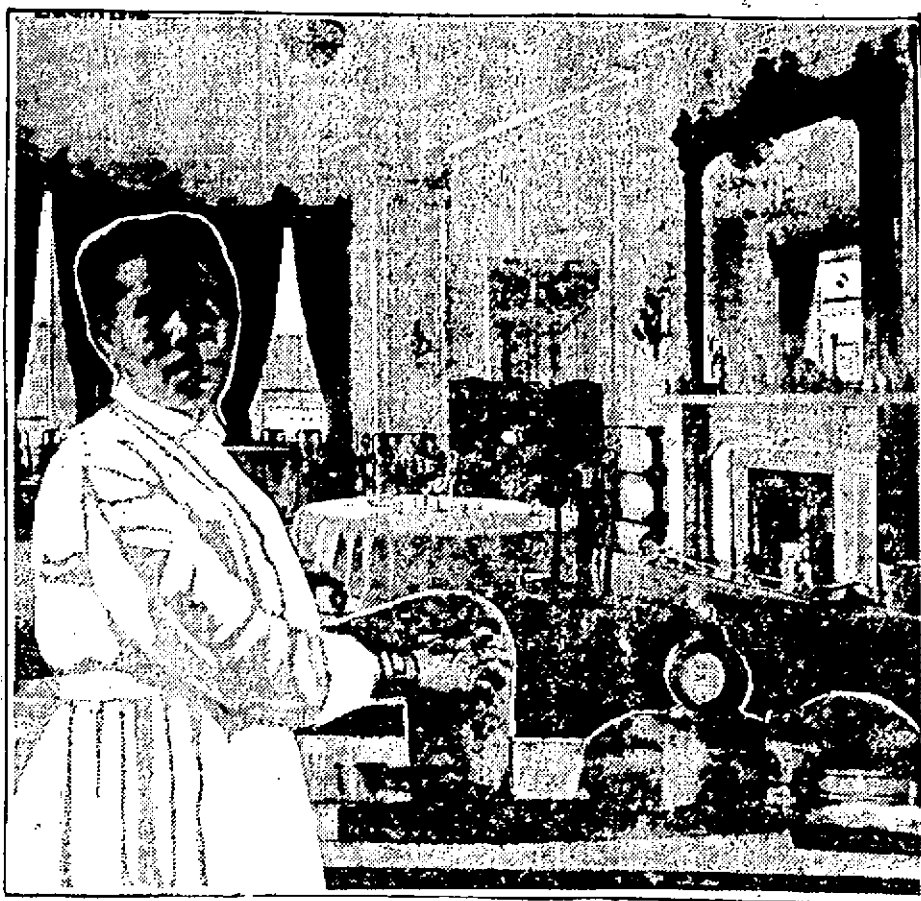

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 3.—Rhode Island, like the other New England states, established a record in presidential pluralities when it gave Harding a margin over Cox, with only three precincts voting, of 52,123. The highest previous was that of 22,978 for McKinley in 1896. All three republican congressmen were easily re-elected and the republican state ticket, led by Justice Governor Emory J. San Souci for governor, went through without trouble. The vote of the state, with three precincts missing, was: Harding, 106,586; Cox, 54,587; for governor, San Souci 104,977; Sullivan (D) 56,040.

The 1918 vote for the state was: Hughes, 44,588; Wilson, 40,334.

New Hampshire

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 3.—New Hampshire, which four years ago went for Wilson by the narrow margin of 35 votes, returned to the republican column yesterday with a plurality of approximately 30,000 for Harding. Senator Moses and Congressman Burroughs and Watson, all republicans, were re-elected by large pluralities, and Albert C. Brown, republican, was elected governor. The vote of 215 out of 298 precincts, was: Harding, 60,802; Cox, 40,983. The state vote in 1918 was: Hughes, 42,723; Wilson, 41,719.

The vote with 45 precincts missing, was 79,677 for Harding and 51,518 for

Cox; 79,132 for Brown and 52,012 for Charles E. Tilton; 75,012 for Moses and 44,501 for Stevens.

Congressman Sherman E. Burroughs and Edward H. Watson, were re-elected, these returns giving the former 5700 over Rosecrans W. Pillsbury and the latter 15,500 over Charles J. French. The vote was 38,474 for Burroughs and 27,226 for Pillsbury; 40,629 for Watson and 25,147 for French.

Maine

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 3.—In a total vote of 13,000 less than that cast in the state election in September, Maine gave Harding a plurality of 76,323 over Cox, 11,900 more than the plurality given Parkhurst for governor. The largest previous presidential plurality in this state was 45,677 for McKinley in 1896. Cox carried only one city—Biddeford—as against 13 carried by Wilson in 1916. The vote of the state complete, was:

Harding 134,411; Cox 53,078.

In 1916, the state voted: Hughes, 69,503; Wilson, 51,033.

Vermont

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 3.—Vermont as always, went republican, giving Harding the largest presidential plurality on record in the state, 44,301, as compared with McKinley's plurality of 40,394 in 1916, the previous record. Senator Dillingham and Congressman Dale and Greene, all republicans were re-elected by large pluralities. The vote of the state complete, was:

Harding 40,394; Cox 20,000.

In 1916, the state voted: Hughes, 40,394; Wilson, 20,000.

Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—Ohio, the home of the democratic and republican candidates for president, yesterday cast its vote decisively in favor of Senator Warren G. Harding, the republican candidate.

On returns from 1128 out of the 7145 precincts in the state, early today, Senator Harding was leading by 190,078. If this ratio continued, Harding would carry his home state by approximately 230,000, the greatest plurality ever given by the Buckeye state for any candidate for office.

Former Mayor Harry L. Davis, republican, of Cleveland, continued to gain on late returns over State Auditor A. V. Donahey, democrat, in the race for the governorship.

Former Governor Frank B. Willis, republican, had a substantial lead of 81,523 over W. A. Julian, democrat, for United States senator.

Illinois

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The republicans polled an estimated majority of 777,000 votes in Illinois for Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge and did not fall far short of that figure in electing Sen. Small of Kankakee, governor, and William B. McKinley senator. Most of the Illinois congressmen will be republicans, while the entire state ticket, including the legislature and the Chicago and Cook county officers, will be of the same party as the coming national administration.

Four years ago, Illinois, with women then voting for president, ran up an estimated plurality of 202,320 for Hughes over Wilson, in a total vote of 2,192,754. The women apparently made no change in the majority this year, except to increase its size, as they voted for Harding and Cox in about the same proportion as the men.

Chicago, with 900,000 voters, delivered an estimated plurality of about 400,000 for Harding, 325,000 for McKinley and 200,000 for Small. The city defeated a daylight saving ordinance next year.

"Cal's" Father First to Vote

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Nov. 3.—Plymouth, the birthplace of Vice President-elect Coolidge gave 153 votes to Senator Harding and his running mate and 15 votes to Cox and Roosevelt in yesterday's election. Four years ago the vote was 91 for Hughes and 89 for Wilson.

The first man to cast a ballot in Plymouth yesterday was John C. Co-ridge, father of the Massachusetts governor.

Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—Robert N. Standfield, republican, had a lead over United States Senator Chamberlain today in 713 precincts, part of which were incomplete. Chamberlain received 13,161 votes and Standfield 12,173 in the precincts reporting. The three republican congressmen who sought re-election, were leading their opponents.

Returns from 703 of 1699 precincts in the state gave Harding 19,153 and Cox 5816.

Missouri

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—Returns from 2271 precincts out of 3810 in Missouri gave Harding 353,841; Cox 314,796.

For senator: Spencer (R), 371,821; Long (D), 311,048.

For governor: Hyde (R), 379,755; Alkinson (D), 292,765.

SOLEMN AND IMPRESSIVE SERVICES

Marked by solemn and impressive services, the funeral of John McLaughlin, one of Centralville's oldest and most respected residents, took place this morning at 9 o'clock from his late home, 246 Methuen street.

Representatives of every walk of life and the many circles in which Mr. McLaughlin for years had been a familiar and welcome figure, paid final tribute to him in one of the most impressive funeral demonstrations ever held in that section of the city. Forty machines were necessary to carry those who took part in the funeral procession.

At 10 o'clock, a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Michael's church by Rev. John J. Shaw, the pastor. He was assisted by Rev. Francis J. McLaughlin, deacon, and Rev. James F. Lynch, sub-deacon. Rev. Thomas J. Heneghey was master of ceremonies.

Within the sanctuary were Mr. Rev. William O'Brien, P.M., pastor of St. Patrick's church, Rev. Eugene A. Carney of Roxbury, Rev. Dennis A. O'Brien of Cambridge, Rev. David J. Murphy of North Billerica, Rev. Henry J. Tattam of Methuen, Rev. John J. O'Brien of Lawrence, Rev. Thomas J. McLaughlin of Augusta, Me., Rev. Joseph A. Curtin, Rev. John H. Doherty, O.M.I., Rev. Stephen J. Murray and Rev. Timothy V. Callahan of Slough-ton.

The choir, under the direction of James A. Murphy, sang the Gregorian chant, "Requiem Aeternam." The soloist, Miss Katherine V. Heneghey gave Laybach's "Pie Jesu" with deep devotion. After the elevation, William J. O'Brien sang "Memento Passionis," and at the close of the mass, "Do Profundis" was sung with James E. Donnelly sustaining the solo. Mrs. George F. Toye was at the organ.

Present at the solemn requiem mass were the school children of St. Michael's parish, Sisters of Charity from St. John's hospital, Sisters from St. Peter's orphanage and the Dominican Sisters from St. Michael's school. The church was crowded.

The uppers were Edward H. Foye, Dr. John T. Donohue, Matthew McGee, Dr. J. Joseph McLaughlin, John J. Gallagher, Martin P. Conley, Daniel Hyde and William P. Morrissey. The active bearers were Frank T. Morrissey, James F. Heneghey, John J. McLaughlin, Joseph J. O'Brien, John J. Mahoney and John V. Donohue. The honorary bearers were Dr. Joseph A. McLaughlin, Dr. Timothy F. Halloran, Dr. Frank R. Brady, Dr. Francis R. Mahoney, Dr. James R. O'Connor, Dr. Thomas H. Delaney, Dr. Patrick J. McLaughlin, Dr. William P. Lawler, Dr. William F. Ryan, Dr. James F. Hoban, Dr. F. J. Murphy and Dr. Michael J. McLaughlin.

The delegates representing St. Michael's Holy Name Society were Alexander Cryan, James J. Duddy, William Furlong, Martin Joyce and John J. Nestor.

At the grave in St. Patrick's cemetery, the communal prayers were read by Rev. Thomas J. McLaughlin of Augusta, Me., a former altar boy of St. Michael's and intimate friend of deceased, assisted by Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Carney, Rev. Fr. Murphy, Rev. Fr. Lynch, Rev. Fr. Shaw, Rev. Fr. Mullin, Rev. Fr. Tattam, Monaghan, O'Brien, Rev. Fr. Doherty, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Murray and Rev. Fr. Gilday. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker James W. McKenna.

When the stomach sours or becomes uneasy, with heartburn, it needs the alkaline effect to offset the acid condition. This you get from one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.
Relief is usually very prompt. The regular use of these tablets after meals gives the stomach and small intestine substantial help to digest food and you will then be bold enough to eat baked beans, fried eggs, sausage, buckwheat cakes and many other things you thought would make your stomach miserable. Get a 50-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and you will then eat whatever you like and be fortified against the acid, sour stomach due to indigestion or dyspepsia. Adv.
